Rules for admission.

FOR admission to the Higher Agricultural Class, an applicant must have one of the following qualifications:—

(i) He must have passed the F.E. Examination of the Calcutta University, and be under 23 years of age, but no student will be allowed to join the Agricultural class after the expiration of five years from admission into the Engineering College.

(ii) He must have passed the B.A. Examination of the Calcutta University by the B. course, or possess other sufficient educational qualifications; be under 23 years of age, and, in addition, have received a nomination from the Bengal Government.

(iii) He must have had a general education qualifying him to follow the instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class, and must also receive a nomination from Government for admission as a special student. To be eligible for a nomination under this rule, a candidate must either have landed property of his own, or be recommended by some influential landholder who desires to train him to take part in the management of his estate, or he must otherwise satisfy Government that he intends to make practical use of his agricultural training. Students entering under this rule will be termed Special Agricultural students. They will not be subject to any maximum limit of age, but will not be entitled to the privileges conferred on passed students under rules 12 and 13, even though they should obtain fully-signed diplomas in due course after passing the necessary examinations.

Every candidate for admission to this Department must apply in writing to the Principal not later than the 14th July. The form of application for a nomination, which must be addressed to the Principal, is given in Appendix B. In the event of the form not being properly filled up and accompanied by the necessary certificates, no notice will be taken of the application.

The number to be nominated each year will depend on the accommodation available.

Every applicant, not already a student of the College, must undergo a medical examination by the College Surgeon before admission to this Department. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

The session begins on the first Monday in November. All students are required to join the College on that day. Any student prevented by sickness from attending on the opening day must produce a certificate to that effect from a Civil or Assistant Surgeon, failing which he will be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10. No student will be admitted or re-admitted to the College after the month of November, except by special orders of the Director of Public Instruction. This permission will only be given under exceptional circumstances.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The course of instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class will extend over two academic years.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Senior scholarships awarded in the Engineer Department are tenable in the Agricultural Department.

One graduate scholarship of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for one year, will be awarded on the result of the examination held at the end of the first academic year.

APPOINTMENTS.

Two appointments annually are assigned to students holding a fully-signed diploma: one in the Provincial Executive Service and one in the Subordinate Executive Service. The right of selection for these appointments will rest with Government, and the students who gained the highest marks at the examination fordiplomas will not necessarily be selected.

ENTRANCE AND TUITION FEES.

Each student in the Higher Agricultural Department will be required to pay an admission fee of Rs. 10.

F.E.'s who elect to join the Agricultural Department immediately after passing the F.E. Examination are exempted from the payment of this fee, as their names are already borne on the College books.

For the present no tuition fees will be charged to students in the Agricultural Department, except in the case of those joining as special students under rule 3 (iii). The tuition fees for these students will be Rs. 8 a month.

Further particulars may be obtained free on application to the Principal.

There was a rise of 9·2 per cent. in the value of the aggregate sea-borne trade of Bengal, which was the highest recorded in any previous year. In the foreign trade the rise in value was 9·6 per cent. and in the coasting trade 6·5 per cent. Only in the exports of precious metals was the foreign trade smaller, all other

Transactions on account of Government are included in the statements in paragraphs 1 and 3, but excluded from all others in this report, being dealt with separately in paragraphs 48 and 56.

headings showing an increase in value. The coasting trade shows some fluctuations: there was a decrease in the imports of gold and silver, and in the exports of foreign merchandise, but this scarcely affects the general rise manifested. Calcutta accounts for 97·2 per cent. of the foreign trade, Chittagong for 2·5 per cent., and the remaining ports for ·3 per cent. In the coasting trade 90·4 per cent. of the aggregate value was appropriated by Calcutta, and 6 per cent. by Chittagong. Taking the foreign and the coasting trade together, Calcutta represents 96·35 per cent., Chittagong 3·02, Balasore ·39, Cuttack ·17, Puri ·04, and Narayanganj ·03.

* In this and all other statements in this review showing rupees, the value is stated in lakhs only, followed by two places of decimals (which is equivalent to omitting "000 ").

The year was a remarkably prosperous one, the aggrogate trade being the highest recorded for any previous year. The increase, which in value amounted to 9·3 per cent., was shared by both the foreign and the coasting trade. In the above table treasure is shown separately, and the result of the past year's transactions (both in the foreign and in the coasting trade) is a net importation of nearly 10 crores, or an advance on the previous year of 34 per cent. The net imports of treasure in the foreign trade were 12¼ crores against 9⅓ crores in 1903-1904; more gold and considerably more silver was received, while the quantity exported was less by 25¼ lakhs. In the coasting trade there was a net export of 2¼ crores of treasure, a rise of 6 per cent., large shipments of both gold and silver being made to Burma to meet the requirements of the rice crop there. As regards merchandise, exports in the foreign trade exceeded imports by 20⅓ crores in value; the aggregate of imports and exports being over 102 crores, an increase in value of 7¾ crores, or 8·3 per cent. Details will be found in the statements that follow. Imports of merchandise into Calcutta from foreign countries were highest in August, September, and October, and lowest during April, May, and February. Exports of Indian produce were greatest during October, November, and December, and smallest in April, May, and July.

4. The imports of merchandise in the coasting trade rose by 60 lakhs, or by 11·9 per cent., and the exports by 56 lakhs, or by 8 per cent. The aggregate trade advanced in value by 9·6 per cent. In imports there were larger receipts of grey cotton piece-goods, sugar, wood teak), kerosine oil, stick-lac, salt and rice. There was an increase in the exports of jute manufactures, coal, mineral oils, tobacco leaf, and tea, and a decrease in the exports of arms and ammunition (Government stores), apparel, cotton twist and yarn, and grain and pulse.

Comparing the year's figures with the previous one, there was an increase of 4·5 per cent. The price has fallen under imports in six items out of ten, an increase being noticeable in the remainder, viz., cotton twist and yarn, grey cotton piece-goods, iron sheets (not galvanized), and refined sugar. In exports, nine articles give a higher average value, and six a smaller one, the six being indigo, rice, wheat, linseed, rape-seed, and tea. If the aggregate quantity be taken at the average value ruling in the previous year, it will be found that the aggregate for the year's trade has risen by 3·4 per cent.: imports advanced by 3·2 per cent., and exports by 3·6 per cent.

In imports an advance is shown in every group except VI, the fall in which is due chiefly to diminished receipts of unset precious stones and pearls. Group I consists almost entirely of horses from Australia. The large increase in Group II was in sugar, spices and salt, and that in III (B) in galvanized iron sheets and plates. Machinery "other sorts" is responsible for the advance in III (C), and "other" materials for railway construction for that in III (D). There was a general improvement under Group IV, and in VII (A) a marked increase under cotton manufactures. Tea-chests and glassware are the principal items in the advance under VII (C).

7. Exports show an advance in all groups except I, III (A) and (D), and VII (B), where there is a small decrease. Larger shipments of grain and pulse account entirely for the marked advance in Group II, and opium for that in Group IV. Hides and skins combined with raw cotton and coal contributed chiefly to the improvement in Group VI. Jute manufactures are the cause of the advance in VII (A) and lac for that in VII (C).

Regarding the distribution of trade with the different countries, it is to be noted that the figures throughout this report refer only to the port of destination or exportation as shown in shipping-bills and bills-of-entry, and are not to be taken to indicate either the country of production or of final destination.

The more important items are dealt with separately, but the following may be noticed.

In 1902-1904 precious stones and pearls rose in value by 35 lakhs; in the year under review the value contracted by 59 lakhs, or by 62·8 per cent. A fall, however, from the unusual demand of the year before was to be expected. A considerable increase in glassware, carriages and carts, toys, clocks and watches, toilet requisites, cabinet-ware and furniture may be attributed to the general prosperity of the year. There were 128 motor-cars and motor bicycles registered in the year in Calcutta alone. Instruments and appliances and also books show an increase.

The demand for tea chests was great, the value rising by 49·6 per cent.; wooden chests rose in value to 13½ lakhs, or by 64·9 per cent., but the value of metal chests was only 1¾ lakhs, or a fall of 12·5 per cent. Of the wooden chests 84 per cent. came from the United Kingdom, Hong-Kong and Germany sending the next largest supplies, while from coast ports the value supplied did not reach one lakh.

The principal products are separately dealt with. Of the others the exports of fodder, bran, etc., are noticeable, as these have steadily risen in importance for some years back, and during the year the increase was as much as 29·1 per cent. Oil-cake rose in value from 6 to 8½ lakhs, the oil-seed crops being good and prices cheap during the year. Raw wool and woollen manufactures both receded by 57·3 and 18·5 per cent. respectively, the former in consequence of the Thibetan Expedition, the latter probably in consequence of a reaction from the heavy shipments of the previous year. Animal bones having shown a decrease, manures fell off in value by 14·8 per cent.: a smaller quantity of wood also was exported to the United States. The quantity of myrabolams rose from 140,227 to 180,462 cwt., which explains the increase in exports under dyeing materials.

Fluctuations in specific articles have been described: it remains to examine the fluctuations in trade with specific countries and groups of countries.

The value of the trade of Calcutta passing through the Suez Canal was nearly 79½ crores against 72 crores in 1903-1904, and the proportion of the total trade using this route increased from 71·7 to 72·01 per cent.

United Kingdom.—The proportion of the trade of Calcutta with the United Kingdom declined by 1·28 per cent. Imports into Calcutta increased by 329·06 lakhs, but shipments decreased by 38·87 lakhs. A marked increase in cotton goods from 1,505·52 to 1,778·17 lakhs, chiefly accounts for the large expansion under imports, but there were advances in every heading except liquors, which shows a small decrease of 5·99 lakhs The most noticeable decrease in exports is to be found under tea, which fell from 562·35 to 479·39 lakhs, a difference of 82·96 lakhs, and under raw jute which fell by 21·56 lakhs. There was an increase, however, in the exports of grain and pulse and of seeds.

Continent of Europe.—The total value advanced from 1,703·23 to 1,984·21 lakhs, or by 16·4 per cent., the expansion being shared by all countries except Russia and France, which show a decrease of 18·31 and 16·72 lakhs, respectively. This was due to a decline of 33·96 lakhs in the amount of kerosine oil sent from the former and in the amount of raw silk and jewellery exported to and imported from the latter country. Imports improved by 76·42 and exports by 204·56 lakhs. Receipts from Germany, which were larger by 44·78 lakhs, and from Austria-Hungary, which were larger by 40·38 lakhs, chiefly account for the increase under imports; woollen goods from the former country having advanced by 20·18 lakhs and sugar from the latter by 24·13 lakhs. Germany and Belgium account for the marked increase under exports. There was a stronger demand for raw jute, grain and pulse, hides and skins in Germany, while shipments of grain and pulse to Belgium largely improved. An increase is also noticeable in the exports of raw jute and hides and skins to Austria-Hungary, and of hides and skins to Italy.

Mauritius, Cape Colony and Natal.—The trade with these countries receded by 36·32 lakhs, imports falling by 21·76 and exports by 14·56 lakhs. The decrease is found in sugar received from Mauritius, and in treasure received from Natal; but gold from Cape Colony advanced by 7·50 lakhs. There was a fall in the exports of silver to Mauritius, and a general fall in the exports to Cape Colony.

Egypt.—Imports improved by 1·78 lakhs owing to larger receipts of treasure, while sugar and salt combined decreased by 2·48 lakhs. The expansion in exports by 8 lakhs was chiefly in jute manufactures, but shipments of indigo and apparel also advanced by over 1½ lakhs each.

Rest of Africa.—The total trade advanced by 1·61 lakhs and is not of importance.

United States of America.—The total value increased by 73·07 lakhs, imports by 9·76 and exports by 63·31 lakhs. Under imports metals and drugs and medicines rose in value, while shipments of hides and skins and lac showed improvements of 44·64 and 18 lakhs, respectively.

South America.—The advance of 39·27 lakhs in exports was almost entirely in jute manufactures; shipments of rice also increased by 4·32 lakhs.

Rest of America.—Imports have almost disappeared since no timber was received from Canada, but exports improved by 11·15 lakhs, which was mainly due to a better demand for tea in Canada.

Eastern Asia.—Imports improved by 95·17 lakhs and exports by 74·46 lakhs. Sugar from Java increased by 39·18 lakhs, treasure from China by 23·61 lakhs and spices from the Straits by 10·88 lakhs. Increased shipments of opium to China by 91·77 lakhs is the chief reason for the expansion under exports, tea to China and opium to Cochin-China having declined by 20·17 and 20·39 lakhs, respectively.

Western Asia.—Imports advanced by 6·02 and exports by 12·03 lakhs. The former was chiefly in salt from Arabia, the latter was due to a greater demand for rice from Arabia.

Ceylon.—This trade is shown separately, as a considerable part of it consists of transhipments. Imports advanced in value by 10·54 and exports by 43·48 lakhs. Treasure from Australia, transhipped at Colombo, is the main cause of the increase under imports, while rice and coal improved the exports by 41·64 and 9 lakhs, respectively. There were no shipments of gold to Ceylon during the year.

Australasia.—The total trade expanded in value by 57·38 lakhs, or by 6·7 per cent. Imports rose by 76 lakhs, which was mainly due to treasure, copper and horses. Exports receded by 18·62 lakhs, chiefly in consequence of smaller shipments of jute manufactures.

SHIPPING.

FOREIGN TRADE.

49. The number of vessels engaged in the foreign trade increased from 1,157 to 1,281, and the total tonnage from 3,033,244 to 3,411,091 tons. The average size of vessels remained practically the same, viz., 2,664 tons, or an increase of only 85 tons. The number of vessels which entered the port was 666 of 1,752,120 tons as against 599 vessels of 1,572,661 tons in the previous year. The advance was mainly due to 315 vessels having arrived with ballast from Ceylon, the African Ports, the Straits, and Japan to meet the demand for freight that prevailed, since only 258 vessels entered in ballast in the previous year. The number of vessels that cleared rose from 558 to 615, and in tonnage from 1,460,583 to 1,658,971. The total of vessels flying the British flag rose from 972 to 1,123 and the tonnage from 2,589,135 to 3,024,958. Vessels flying the German colours fell from 97 to 88; the Norwegians coming next with 23 vessels. Forty-six steamers and one sailing vessel left the port with cargoes of jute, 105 vessels with cargoes of coal.

A new line of steamers was established during the year to the ports of Australia and New Zealand. Owing to increased shipments of jute manufactures to the Argentine, a direct monthly service of steamers, vid the Cape to the River Plate will run during the export season of 1905.

50. Rates of freight in the first quarter of the year were firm generally owing to the early arrivals of large consignments of country produce, and remained fairly steady till increased exports at the end of August caused a gradual advance from 22*s.* 6*d.* to 28*s.* 9*d.* per ton. An average rate of 26*s.* 3*d.* was maintained from October to December, after which it declined till it fell as low as 17*s.* 6*d.* per ton at the end of the year. The large crops from India and the Argentine kept up the freight market.

CUSTOMS REVENUE.

FOREIGN TRADE.

51. On 22nd March 1905 the tax on salt, which on 18th March 1903 had been reduced from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 2 per maund, was still further reduced to Re. 1-8 per maund. The new rate came into force at once, and 6,46,640 maunds of salt, which had been held back in anticipation of the reduction, were cleared at the lower rate during the few remaining days of the year. The reduction in duty thus caused a loss of Rs. 3,23,320. In consequence of the abolition of the countervailing and special duties on sugar from those countries that had joined the Brussels' Convention, only Rs. 7,309 was received from these duties during the year. The rate of collection under the Tea Cess Act (IX of 1903) remained the same, the net collections amounting to Rs. 2,08,651.

From Customs duties the gross revenue collected during the year was Rs. 3,92,90,891, an increase of 8·4 per cent. Adding to this the revenue collected on salt imported into Calcutta but paid into district treasuries for clearance of salt from inland bonded warehouses, which amounted to Rs. 25,89,028, the gross Customs revenue was Rs. 4,18,79,919, an advance of 7·7 per cent. After the usual deductions on account of refunds and drawbacks, the net revenue is Rs. 4,13,58,425, an increase of 8·2 per cent.

Taking the grand total of import duty (Rs. 3,74,24,203) it will be observed that only in the year 1902-1903 has this amount been exceeded: in that year, however, the high figures were due to the revenue derived from salt, when the tax was higher. Eliminating salt, the year under review shows an increase of 7·6 per cent. over 1902-1903. There has been a very marked advance in the collections on imports. With the exception of a fall of nearly one lakh under copper, which was due to the high prices of the past year, a decrease of Rs. 4,573 in dyeing and tanning materials, a decrease of Rs. 410 under "other articles of food and drink," and a decrease in the collections from the special and countervailing sugar duties, the revenue has increased in a most satisfactory manner during the year. General prosperity, and consequently larger importations were no doubt the chief cause. Owing to the lower price of the raw material, cotton goods contributed 19·2 per cent. more revenue: there was an unexpected improvement of 14·4 per cent. under mineral oil, and an increase of 43·1 per cent. from spices. There was a further rise in the excise duty on local cotton manufactures from Rs. 10,908 to Rs. 11,929, or by 9·3 per cent. The total payments on account of refunds and drawbacks amounted to Rs. 5,21,494, but there was a rise in drawbacks taken alone from Rs. 29,775 to Rs. 64,792 owing to considerable re-exports of sugar, metals (silver and copper), and cotton piece-goods. Refunds on salt were Rs. 1,61,569, a decrease of only Rs. 1,711 on the previous year: refunds on arms increased to Rs. 1,62,288, but refunds on sugar totalled only Rs. 15,482 as compared with Rs. 2,24,960 in the previous year. The refunds on arms and salt represented 85·6 per cent. of the total import refunds made. Owing to better crops and larger shipments to foreign countries, the duty on rice and paddy rose in the year by 22·7 per cent.

ADMINISTRATION.

68. Working of the Merchandise Marks Act.—Hitherto it has been the custom to submit a separate report on this subject, but orders were received during the year to incorporate it in the general report.

Cases under the Merchandise Marks Act rose to 493 against 325 in the previous year and 251 in the year before that. The increase may, I think, safely be attributed to the increased activity and vigilance of the Custom House Officers, and was not due to greater laxity in the observance of the provisions of the Act.

The cases may be distributed as follows:—

		1903-1904.	1904-1905.
Section 18 of the Sea Customs Act as amended by section 10 of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act.	clause (d)	115 cases	234 cases
	„ (e)	73 „	75 „
	„ (f)	173 „	184 „

In the cases under clause (d) there were three cases of counterfeit trade marks. One was in connection with some shirtings, and orders were passed that the offending consignment should be reshipped. A second was concerned with a brand of matches; the consignment was detained, but released after the matter had been temporarily settled in Court. In the third a brand of cement was the cause of action being taken, but the parties subsequently setttled the case amicably. Amongst the false trade descriptions the following may be noticed :—

(1) There were five cases connected with medicinal preparations. In one case some bottles were marked "Bon-bon or Worm Tablets," which, on examination were found not to be a medicine for worms. A penalty was imposed and the goods reshipped. In another case similar bottles were imported, which were probably meant to be sold as medicine for worms but which were marked "Bon-bon Coronation Mixture," and said to be a medicine for malaria. The consignment was stopped and penalized as it was found not to be a medicine for malaria. In a third instance, a consignment, the bottles of which were marked "Santonine preparation" were found to contain no santonine; it was reshipped on penalty. In two instances preparations marked "B. P." were found to be deficient in the proportion of spirit they contained.

(2) In one case German-made biscuits were got up in imitation of Huntley and Palmer's biscuits. Released after being stamped under penalty.

(3) In 60 cases glass chimneys for lamps, of Belgian origin, were found marked distinctly with the English word "fireproof" but indistinctly, and evidently purposely so, with the words "made in Belgium." Small penalties were imposed.

(4) In 26 instances foreign goods bore portraits of the English Royal family. Released with small penalty.

(5) In six instances packets were found with a label denoting a larger quantity than the packets contained. Penalties were imposed.

(6) In four cases a false country of origin was indicated for tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. Penalties were imposed.

(7) The country of origin for liquors was falsely given in two instances. In the first the correct country (Germany) was stamped on a consignment of liquors, and the goods passed on penalty. In the second the importer declined to pay the fine imposed on some German brandy which was got up as French, and the consignment was in consequence confiscated.

(8) Paints and red leads continue to be imported, exhibiting a false trade description as to the percentage of reduction in each. Five such cases were detected and passed on penalties, after being correctly stamped.

(9) One consignment marked "Icy Essence of Peppermint" was found to contain no peppermint.

(10) In ten instances importations of fraudulent yarns were detected. They aggregated 259 bales and were penalized to the extent of Rs. 3,935. In four instances the bales were reshipped; in the remaining six they were passed after the bundles had been broken up. In three cases the goods were found to have been short-reeled and in seven cases short weight was proved.

Of the 75 cases under clause (e), 55 were of articles shipped from the Continent, 16 from Japan and 4 from America. Penalties were imposed in 73 of these cases, in 71 of which the country of origin was ordered to be stamped on the goods; in the remaining two stamping was done without penalty.

Of the 184 cases under clause (f), in 120 there were no lengths marked, in 39 the lengths were not properly marked, and in the remainder the marking did not comply with the law. There were 84 cases of cotton goods, 87 of woollen goods and 13 cases of mixed piece-goods. Penalties were imposed in 180 cases. The results of the year are as follows, combining the cases under clauses (d), (e) and (f):—

(1) Re-shipped with penalty	7
(2) Ordered to be reshipped without penalty	1
(3) Penalized and passed	462
(4) Released after compliance with the law	21
(5) Released after temporary settlement in Court	1
(6) Confiscated	1
Total ...	493

All the cases were disposed of by the Collector. There were two appeals made during the year, both of which were rejected by the Board of Revenue. The total amount of penalties was Rs. 10,348, of which Rs. 3,935 were imposed in cases of the fraudulent reeling of yarn. All the cases except the cases of counterfeit trade marks were detected by the Appraising staff.

69. Merits of Officers.—An additional Assistant Collector was appointed to the Custom House, Mr. C. B. Bayley acting in that capacity from 18th April till 12th May 1904, when a member of the Civil Service, Mr. A. J. Chotzner, was appointed. Mr. Bonnaud retired in July 1904, when Mr. Wolferstan occupied the position of Third Assistant Collector. The Second Assistant Collector, Mr. Burrup, was on leave for three months and Mr. Newton officiated. My acknowledgments are due to the above-mentioned officers: Mr. Chotzner made a careful inspection of the office: Mr. Burrup continued to show the energy and ability that have distinguished him in former years, and his services in the management of the Appraisers' Department were especially valuable.

Of the Appraisers, besides Mr. Newton, I would especially mention Mr. Battye, Mr. Moore and Mr. Rice, though several of the others did good work. Mr. McKenna, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Joseph in the Import Department, Mr. L. Mendicta in the Export Department, and Munshi Lutful Khabir in charge of the Record-room are the other officers whose names should, I think, find a place in this report. Mr. McKenna also performed with efficiency from time to time the duties of an Assistant Collector. Mr. L. F. Morshead was on furlough from 30th April till January 1905, when he was placed on deputation with the Government of India: I acted for him from 5th May 1904.

Mr. A. S. Judge, the Superintendent of the Preventive Service, was on furlough from 30th April till the end of the year. Mr. J. A. Stevens, who acted for him was, I think, particularly successful in his management of the department, and he received great assistance from the Chief Inspector, Mr. Maflin. The Preventive Officers who the Superintendent considers deserve mention for their work during the year are Mr. West, Mr. Snell, and Mr. C. M. McGuire.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORTER TO THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1904-1905.

The 29th June 1905.—The following is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

I HAVE been in charge of the Bengal Meteorological Department during the past year.

2. On the representation of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce 19 fourth-class observatories in Bengal and Assam, recording one set of observations daily at 8 A. M., were, with the approval of the Government of India, sanctioned by the Government of Bengal. Arrangements were at once made for the establishment of these observatories. The stations selected were either tea-gardens in Darjeeling, the Duars and in Assam or the jute centres in East Bengal. Of the 19 observatories sanctioned by Government, 18 commenced work before the end of the past official year. I have not yet been able to arrange for the work at the remaining station (Chandkhira in Assam).

3. The second-class observatory at Darbhanga was closed on the 27th July 1904, and the third-class observatory at Laheria Serai was retained on a permanent footing from that date. The reason of the closing of the Darbhanga observatory and the retention of Laheria Serai has been given in paragraph 2 of my Administration Report for the year 1903-1904.

4. Under orders of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian Observatories, the third-class observatory at Pamban was transferred from my control to that of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Madras from the 1st April 1904.

5. There were thus five second-class observatories, 39 third-class observatories, 18 fourth-class observatories and one voluntary observatory under the control of the Bengal Meteorological Department on the 31st March 1905.

6. The following table gives the names and distributions of these 63 observatories :—

Voluntary Observatory (1).

Cooch Behar.

7. The observatories at Angul and Monghyr sanctioned by Government have not yet been started.

8. Observations of the following instruments are recorded at the fourth-class observatories :—

Dry bulb hygrometer. | Maximum thermometer.
Wet ditto. | Minimum ditto.
Rain-gauge.

Weekly weather telegrams giving the means of the readings of the thermometers of the past week and the total rainfall of the week are sent on every Tuesday, and are printed in a tabular form which is distributed to all subscribers to the Bengal Daily Weather Report the next morning without any additional charge being made for it.

9. Automatic instruments recording pressure and temperature are in use at the following observatories :—

Chittagong. | Puri.
Burdwan. | Cuttack.
Saugor Island. | Balasore.

10. At Burdwan the barograph only is in use, as the thermograph observations were discontinued from 7th January 1903.

11. At Saugor Island a weekly barograph had been in use. This was withdrawn and a daily barograph and thermograph were supplied. The observations of these instruments were commenced from 9th June 1904. A self-recording anemometer is also in use at this station.

INSPECTION OF OBSERVATORIES.

12. The Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian Observatories having expressed a wish that the inspection of observatories in Bengal should form part of a complete system for the whole of India, the following observatories in Bengal were inspected during the year in accordance with his suggestions :—

RESULTS OF INSPECTION AND WORK AT OBSERVATORIES.

13. Second-class observatories.—Only two second-class observatories were visited during the past year, viz., Saugor Island and Chittagong, and were found to be in good condition at the time of inspection. The observations from Chittagong had been unsatisfactory until January 1905 when on my representation to the Superintendent of Telegraphs, Arakan Division, the observer was changed and the present Telegraph Master, Mr. Iyer, directed to take charge of the observatory from 1st February 1905. The observations have since improved. The observatory at Saugor Island in charge of Mr. T. W. DeSouza, the Telegraph Master, maintained its reputation as one of the best observatories in Bengal.

14. Third-class observatories.—Thirteen third-class observatories were inspected during the past year. The observatories on the whole were found to be in good condition at the time of inspection with the exception of the Rangpur Observatory, which was found to be in a badly neglected condition.

15. Judging from the observations submitted, the work done at the Bengal observatories was generally satisfactory with the exception of Rangpur, where the observer (the postmaster) was careless in his work. At Barisal and Malda also the observers (postal employees) were careless.

16. Sir John Eliot, who visited Bogra in February 1903, suggested the removal of the thermometer shed from the circuit-house compound to a site near the jail. Arrangements were accordingly made to remove the observatory to the site selected by Sir John Eliot, and the removal was effected on the 22nd May 1904. The rain-gauge of the observatory, which also was in the circuit-house compound, has been removed to a site near the thermometer shed.

17. Owing to the erection of a new dâk bungalow at Ranchi, it was thought advisable to remove the wind instruments from the roof of the old dâk bungalow (which was utilized for other purposes) to the roof of the new building. The removal was effected on the 7th August 1904.

18. Award for special observations.—The observers at Burdwan and Saugor Island were granted special awards by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian Observatories for storm observations, etc., taken by them during the past year.

19. Work at, and inspection of, rain-gauge stations.—The number of rain-gauge stations on the 31st March 1905 was 396, i.e., 16 more than on the corresponding date last year.

20. The names of the stations started during the year are given in the following table:—

Station.	District.	Sanctioned in Government order—
Bhaonathpur ...	Palamau ...	No. 1030, dated 20th February 1904.

Nabinagar .	Gaya ...	No. 2996T.—R., dated 1st November 1904.

21. The rainfall work at Dumkol, which was in abeyance for some time, was resumed in May 1904, the rain-gauge being placed in charge of the Sub-Registrar of the station by order of the Collector of Murshidabad.

22. The rain-gauges at Ramchandrapur, Daudkandi, Kasba and Nasirnagar, in the district of Tippera, have been placed in charge of the local Civil Hospital Assistants, and there has been a marked improvement in the rainfall returns received from these stations.

23. The rain-registering officers at Rejauli (in Gaya district) and Mohania (in Shahabad district) have been very irregular in the submission of the rainfall returns.

24. The total number of rain-gauges inspected during the past year was 244 against 230 in 1903-04, 232 in 1902-03 and 177 in 1901-02. Altogether 396 visits were made during the past year. The work of rain-gauge inspection by District Officers, Subdivisional Officers and Civil Surgeons has been satisfactorily done.

25. The following table shows the distribution of the 396 rainfall stations in the various districts in Bengal, as it stood on 31st March 1905, and the number of stations inspected in each district during the past year:—

26. Under the existing arrangement of supplying rain-gauges and measure-glasses to the rain-registering officers in Bengal from the Meteorological Office, Bengal, 34 measure-glasses, 18 rain-gauges and 6 glass bottles (for use with rain-gauge) were issued during the past year from the stock kept in this office.

27. Departmental Reports.—The report on the meteorology of Bengal for the monsoon season of 1904 was prepared and submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 21st January. The usual number of rainfall maps illustrating the distribution of rainfall over the Province, the district variation from the normal and the percentage variation from the normal for the monsoon period of 1903 were also prepared and submitted to Government with the monsoon summary.

28. The monthly rainfall table for Bengal and the meteorological table for Bengal and Assam with a summary of the chief features of the weather of the month, were published in the Calcutta Gazette about the middle of every month.

29. The following annual rainfall tables were prepared and published in the Calcutta Gazette. They were for the period January to December.

Table I.—Showing the monthly and annual rainfall at 396 stations in Bengal for 1904.

Table II.—Showing the monthly and annual average rainfall at 318 rainfall stations in Bengal.

Table III.—Comparison table of the rainfall of 1904 at 318 rainfall stations in Bengal with averages of previous years.

Addenda to the rainfall table of the Province of Bengal for the year 1904.

30. Charts showing the distribution of actual rainfall, the variation from the normal and the percentage variation were prepared and submitted monthly to the Government of Bengal during the period May to October 1904, and copies were sent to the Sanitary Commissioner.

31. The representation of the Chamber of Commerce, referred to in paragraph 2 of this report, included the following suggestions:—

(1) that the Bengal Weather Report should be printed in the same form throughout the year and not in two different forms as was the case before, and that it should include the information received from inland observatories as was the case during the six months from May to October;

(2) that the meteorological observations recorded at certain stations (ten in number) in the Central Provinces, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and Assam should be included in the weather report for the purpose of indicating cold-weather storms, etc.; and

(3) that the rainfall statistics should be quoted in the weather report with effect from the beginning of the year, i.e., from the 1st January instead of from the 1st May.

32. These suggestions were accepted by Mr. Little, and the scheme drawn up by him for the improvement of the daily weather report was sanctioned in its entirety by Government with effect from 1st June 1904. The observatories which have been added to the list of reporting stations are—

In Assam.	In the Central Provinces.	In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh.
Gauhati.	Sambalpur.	Allahabad.
Shillong.	Raipur.	Bahraich.

37. There was no addition or alteration in the Code of Storm Signals.

38. The dates of the principal storms and barometric depressions occurring during the past year are given in the first of the two following tables, and the action taken in the matter of issuing storm-warnings and hoisting storm-signals is indicated in the second of these tables:—

Table giving a brief statement of the storms which affected the Bay of Bengal coasts during the year 1904-1905.

Number of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
1	1st to 3rd June ...	On the 1st and 2nd there were indications of unsettled weather in the centre of the Bay. The disturbed state of the weather developed into a small cyclonic storm on the morning of the 3rd, somewhat to the south-west of Diamond Island, and the storm crossed the Burma Coast early on the same day near Diamond Island.	Burma Coast.
2	16th to 17th June ...	A depression appeared off the Orissa Coast on the morning of the 15th, which intensified on the 16th and developing slowly into a storm crossed the coast near Saugor Island on the 17th.	Bengal Coast.
3	30th June and 1st July	A disturbance was noticed at the head of the Bay on the 24th, shifting its position from day to day. It may almost be said to have described a circular path, moving from the head of the Bay inland to the vicinity of Burdwan on the 25th, then slightly northward on the 26th, then to the west on the 27th, to the south on the 28th, and finally emerging at the head of the Bay on the 30th June. It developed into a storm of considerable strength on the 1st July and passed rapidly inland on the same day to the south of Balasore.	Orissa Coast.

Number of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
4	11th to 14th August ...	A small depression appeared at the head of the Bay on the 11th and developed during the next two days into a storm of considerable severity, crossing the coast near Saugor Island on the morning of the 14th.	Bengal Coast.
5	19th to 21st August ...	A small depression was shown to the south of Saugor Island on the 19th. It developed slowly into a storm during the 19th and 20th, and on the afternoon of the 21st crossed the mouth of the Hooghly.	Ditto.
6	27th to 29th „ ...	A shallow depression formed at the head of the Bay on the 27th, moving slowly northwards on the 28th and passed inland on the 29th without having developed into a storm.	Ditto.
7	5th to 7th September	A depression appeared at the head of the Bay on the 5th. It developed slowly into a cyclonic storm, and finally crossed the Orissa Coast on the morning of the 7th.	Orissa Coast.
8	9th to 12th „ ...	A depression appeared in the north of the Bay on the 9th. It developed slowly during the next two days, and finally crossed the coast near Gopalpur on the morning of the 12th.	Ganjam Coast.
9	18th to 22nd „ ...	Weather was disturbed for some days in North Burma. On the 18th the disturbance moved into East Bengal. It then shifted eastward with its centre to the south-west of Chittagong on the 19th. It affected the weather at the head of the Bay on the 20th, but the depression was more marked on the 21st when it was lying over South-West Bengal. It then moved northwards, and its centre on the morning of the 22nd was near Barisal.	Bengal Coast.
10	8th to 10th October ...	A shallow depression formed in the south-west of the Bay on the 8th, but probably owing to the high pressure conditions generally prevailing during the earlier part of the month failed to develop into a cyclonic storm, the disturbed conditions passing away on the 10th.	Coromandel Coast.
11	12th to 15th „ ...	Weather was suspicious on the 12th and 13th. On the 14th a depression was shown approaching the coast between Masulipatam and Nellore. It developed into a storm of considerable severity off the Madras Coast on the 15th with the centre to the south-east of Cocanada and crossed the coast the same night between Masulipatam and Cocanada.	Circars Coast.
12	4th and 5th November	On the 4th a cyclonic storm formed in the Gulf of Martaban and crossed the coast to the east of Diamond Island either the same night or early the next morning, its centre following a path parallel to the Arakan Coast, but slightly inland.	Burma Coast.
13	22nd and 23rd „	A depression was shown on the 21st to the south of the Bay area. It developed with considerable rapidity and advanced on the morning of the 22nd into the centre of the Bay along a north-north-westerly path, and on the forenoon of the 23rd crossed the Arakan Coast immediately to the south of Chittagong.	Arakan Coast.
14	18th to 21st December	Weather was disturbed in the extreme south-west of the Bay on the 18th. The depression remained stationary during the next two days and then moved further away from the coast in a north-north-easterly direction on the 21st, finally disappearing on the 22nd.	Coromandel Coast.

39. The thanks of the Department are due to the tea- and indigo-planters, to the missionaries at Pedong, and to the Chinese Commissioner of Customs at Yatung (in Tibet) who have kindly continued to send rainfall returns during the past year and to the Surveyor-General, Ceylon, for sending meteorological observations taken at Colombo and Trincomallee for the Daily Weather Report. I have also to thank the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Indian Tea Association as well as the tea-planting community in the Duars and in Assam for the cordial help they have given me in establishing the recently-sanctioned fourth-class observatories in Bengal and Assam. Without their co-operation I should not have been able to arrange for the speedy commencement of observations at these observatories.

40. Office establishment.—My office establishment has been strengthened by the addition of a clerk and two tabulators from 1st June 1904.

The Bengal office was removed to Alipore on 20th August 1904, and the final amalgamation with the India office and consequent redistribution of work took place on the 1st January 1905.

The office staff worked to my entire satisfaction during the year—at times in the face of considerable difficulties involved in the existence of a dual office at Camac Street and Alipore, and I have specially to thank Babu Jati Lal De, the former Head Clerk of the Bengal office and present Superintendent of the Correspondence Section of the amalgamated offices, for the assistance he rendered in the work of transfer of the Bengal office and of combination of the Bengal and India offices.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL, DARJEELING, FOR 1904.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 20th June 1905.

RESOLUTION—No. 1868T.—M.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium and Hospital for the year 1904.

Read again—

The Report for the year 1903 and the Resolution recorded thereon.

The Report testifies to the good work done by the Superintendent and his staff. The total number of admissions was 459, of whom 321 were patients and 138 their relatives and friends. These numbers show a slight reduction as compared with the admissions in 1903. This may have been due to accidental circumstances; but for several years there has been a distinct, though not strong, tendency to decrease. It may be due to the competition of other hill stations now accessible by rail. The number of persons operated on was 30, of whom 27 were cured, 2 were relieved and 1 died.

2. Owing to the diminution in the number of patients, especially in the first class, there was a decrease of Rs. 7,042 in the income and of Rs. 4,676 in the expenditure. The year's working shows a surplus of Rs. 1,097 as compared with Rs. 3,464 during the preceding year. Some much-needed improvements in the buildings have recently been carried out. Of these the most important was the renovation of the kitchen and attached buildings at a cost of Rs. 8,837, the greater part of which was met by Government. An X-ray apparatus has been procured; and the obstetric ward has been improved at a cost of Rs. 1,200. Sanction has been given to the construction of nurses' quarters at a cost of Rs. 6,340. Much still remains to be done to place the institution in a thoroughly satisfactory condition, but there is very little money available. The income from subscriptions has steadily dwindled from Rs. 2,485 in 1886 to Rs. 350 in the year under review. There is no improvement in this respect as compared with last year.

3. Major Maynard was in charge of the Sanitarium throughout the year. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that his thanks may be conveyed to that officer and to his subordinates for the satisfactory manner in which their duties have been discharged. His Honour has just visited the Sanitarium and found it in a thoroughly efficient state and considerably improved since last year.

RESOLUTION ON TRIENNIAL REPORT ON CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL AND MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS IN CALCUTTA FOR 1902, 1903 AND 1904.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 1st July 1905.

RESOLUTION—No. 1423T.—M.

READ—

The Triennial Report on the working of the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal and the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the years 1902, 1903, and 1904.

Read also—

The Triennial Report for the years 1899, 1900, and 1901, the Annual Returns for the years 1902 and 1903, and the Resolutions recorded upon them.

The Inspector-General's Report, which was due to Government by the 1st May, was received on the 26th idem. The delay is accounted for by the recent change in the classification of dispensaries and the alterations in the forms of the Statistical Returns introduced by the Resolution of the Government of India, No. 678-86, dated 10th July 1904. The labour of compilation in the central office has been increased, and as the new forms were not always understood by the local Medical Officers, the returns had in some cases to be sent back for revision.

2. In his opening paragraphs the Inspector-General mentions certain administrative reforms which have been carried out during the three years under review. One of the most important is the greater financial independence which has been given to the Managing Committees of Municipal Dispensaries. In former years, when the subscriptions to dispensaries were merged in the Municipal Fund, private liberality was discouraged by the apprehension that increased contributions would merely result in a diminution of the municipal expenditure. The accounts of the Dispensary Committees have therefore been separated, as far as possible, from those of the Municipalities. Improved arrangements have been made for training the Police in ambulance work and first aid to the injured, and the system promises to give satisfactory results. The rules governing the examinations of Hospital Assistants have been revised. The pay of compounders has been increased in certain cases. The civil drug stores have been abolished and money grants are now given in lieu of medicines for Government servants. Short courses of lectures on tuberculosis and malaria have been introduced in all the colleges and in many of the more advanced schools.

3. Calcutta Hospitals and Dispensaries.—Since the last triennial report was written much has been done to modernize the leading medical institutions in Calcutta. The reconstruction and renovation of the Presidency General Hospital has been practically completed, with the exception of a ward for paying patients and an administrative block which will shortly be constructed. Proposals for the establishment at Puri of a Convalescent Home in connection with this hospital are under consideration. At the Medical College Hospital important additions are being made, including a new surgical wing and quarters for the nursing staff. The reconstruction of the antiquated Campbell Hospital has been commenced; and a large scheme for the remodelling and improvement of the Howrah General Hospital has been sanctioned. At the same time, as stated by the Inspector-General, the standard of efficiency in the principal hospitals has been substantially raised; and this improvement has been largely due to the energy and zeal of the Medical Officers who have been in charge.

4. The aggregate number of beds provided in the Calcutta hospitals is 1,778. On the average only three-quarters of the total number were occupied in 1904, but the margin must have been very small during the unhealthy months. The total number of indoor patients fell from 29,063 in the first, to 26,554 in the last, year of the triennial period. The first of these years was very unhealthy; but the Lieutenant-Governor notices that for a long time past, in spite of the rapid growth of the population of Calcutta, the number of indoor patients has shown no tendency to expand. There has been a rise in the number of women and children admitted to hospital, but that of men was actually less in 1904 than it was twelve years earlier. The outdoor attendance, however, shows a steady increase, and the average yearly number of out-patients during the triennium was 267,776 against 241,576 during the previous three years. Here also the improvement is most marked in the case of females; and the number of women treated has risen by 59 per cent. since 1892, while in the case of men the increase is 16 per cent. only. This is attributed by the Inspector-General to the measures which have been taken in recent years to secure greater privacy for female patients. Of the various institutions the greatest progress is shown by the Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospital, where the number of in-patients has risen from 3,191 in the previous triennium to 4,209 in the three years under review, and the number of out-patients from 53,734 to 62,581. The total number of patients treated there is two and a half times as great as it was fifteen years ago.

5. The income of the Calcutta hospitals in 1904 was Rs. 13,67,400, of which about three-quarters was contributed by Government. This figure includes capital expenditure on buildings, which has been unusually large for several years past. The receipts from paying patients (Rs. 92,877) were the highest on record. Private subscriptions amounted to Rs. 48,689 in 1904 as compared with Rs. 15,773 in 1903, but the former sum includes two large legacies aggregating Rs. 34,101. The amount contributed by private liberality towards the ordinary expenditure of the hospitals is deplorably small; and the receipts under this head in 1903 were actually less than they were twenty years previously.

6. Charitable Dispensaries outside Calcutta.—Owing to the changes made in the classification of dispensaries it is difficult to compare in detail the figures of 1904 with those of previous years. Some interesting general results may however be noted. Between 1883 and 1903, the number of hospitals under State supervision (excluding Private, Railway, Police and Female Hospitals) rose from 223 to 581, and the number of beds from 2,059 to 3,714. During the same period of twenty years the number of indoor patients rose from 22,468 to 49,166, and that of outdoor patients from 915,753 to 4,295,859. The number of operations performed increased nearly fourfold. On the financial side the results are equally satisfactory. The income of the dispensaries from all sources has risen from Rs. 4,51,751 to Rs. 16,03,354, and the amount raised by private subscriptions from Rs. 1,33,758 to Rs. 5,03,115.

7. In spite of the progress that has been made, much remains to be done; and the Bengal dispensaries still serve a larger population than is the case in some of the other Provinces. There is however in this Province a large number of private practitioners, who are to be found in all important villages; and these, to some extent at least, compensate for the comparatively small number of public institutions. The net increase in the number of dispensaries during the last three years is only 66, or the same as in the previous triennium. The District Boards have hitherto been hampered by want of funds, but now that their resources have been increased by a grant equivalent to 25 per cent. of their income from the road cess, this difficulty will no longer be felt, and it is expected that they will considerably augment their expenditure on medical relief. The question of laying down rules as to the amount of local support which should be required before new dispensaries are opened is under the consideration of Government. Efforts have been made in some districts to supplement the medical relief afforded by the dispensaries by the supply of medicine chests to village headmen, the deputation of Medical Officers to visit outlying market centres, and (in Faridpur) by the institution of a floating dispensary. The first of these measures has not been attended with much success, but the system of visiting markets is favourably reported on and should be more largely resorted to.

8. The number of beds available for indoor patients has risen from 4,882 in 1902 to 5,502 in 1904, and the total number of indoor patients from 66,810 to 69,283. Owing to instructions issued by the Inspector-General, the proportion of patients paying for their diet in the public hospitals rose from 8·7 per cent. in 1903 to 13·9 per cent. in 1904. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with Colonel Browne that hospitals should not be made to discharge the functions of poor-houses, and that they lose in popularity by so doing. The rate of mortality amongst indoor patients fell from 10·5 per cent. in 1902 to 8·5 per cent. in 1904; the heaviest mortality is recorded in the hospitals situated on the main lines of pilgrim traffic. The number of out-door patients is growing rapidly, the average number for the triennium being 4,970,999 against 3,650,152 in the previous three years. This is due partly to the opening of new dispensaries, but also, to a large extent, to the increased efficiency and popularity of the existing institutions. As in the case of the Calcutta hospitals, a satisfactory feature of the returns is the rapid increase in the number of female patients, which in 1904 considerably exceeded a million. This is due largely to the provision in the majority of the hospitals of separate female examination and waiting rooms.

9. During the last two years 5¾ lakhs have been spent on buildings and repairs, and many improvements have been effected; but a large number of the existing buildings are still unsatisfactory and require almost complete renovation. Instructions have been issued to District Boards to devote to this purpose a part of the funds recently placed at their disposal. The surgical equipment of the hospitals has of late received much attention, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to hear that the Government grant of Rs. 25,000, which was made for this purpose in 1904, has been supplemented by considerable sums raised locally. The supply of medicines is still in many cases very inadequate, but the Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that much more quinine is being used than was the case a few years ago.

10. Malarial fever was as usual the most frequent cause of attendance, and accounted for one-fifth of the total number of cases treated. Although the vital statistics show a diminution in the number of deaths from this cause in 1904, there was an increase in the number of cases treated both in the public dispensaries and in police hospitals. In connection with the latter the Inspector-General draws attention to the good results produced by the regular administration of prophylactic doses of quinine to prisoners and lunatics, and suggests that this practice should be followed in the case of the police. The attention of the Inspector-General of Police will be drawn to his remarks on this subject. The surgical record of the year was an excellent one, and in all 209,043 operations were performed. There were no less than 2,600 operations for cataract in the year 1904, or more than the aggregate number performed in the decade ending in 1891; in five cases out of six the operation was successful.

11. The financial results of the year were, on the whole, satisfactory. There was a large increase in private subscriptions, which furnished a quarter of the total receipts, and a smaller one in the contributions by District Boards. On the other hand the expenditure of Municipalities on medical relief in 1904 was less than it had been for several years past. In the Resolution on the Annual Returns for 1902 special attention was drawn to the decrease which occurred in that year, and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the remarks which were then made have had no effect. This matter will be dealt with separately. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has given a list of the more important instances of private liberality, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his acknowledgments to the donors. Of these the most munificent was Her Highness the Maharani of Hutwa, who contributed Rs. 21,500 towards the construction of a female ward and operation-room at the Chapra Hospital and Rs. 7,646 towards the new hospital building at Bankipore; a sum of Rs. 12,220 was given by the Gurjat Chiefs towards improvements in the Cuttack Hospital; and the Raja of Lalgola made a donation of Rs. 12,000 for additions to the Berhampore Hospital.

12. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Colonel Browne for his interesting report and for his able and successful administration of the Department during the year. There are certain questions raised in the report, which it will be better to refer separately for the orders of Government. They do not affect the work of the year.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; <, lightning; p, passing temporary showers; /, strong wind.

(2) When any explosive falls within more than one of the said classes, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of such classes.

Definition of "gunpowder" (class 1).

3. The expression "gunpowder", as used in these rules, means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so-called.

Definition of "nitrate-mixture" (class 2).

4. The expression "nitrate-mixture", as used in these rules, means any preparation, other than gunpowder, which is formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

Nitrate-mixture includes, among other explosives,—

Definition and subdivision of "nitro-compound" (class 3).

5. (1) The expression "nitro-compound", as used in these rules, means any chemical compound which is possessed of explosive properties or is capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, and is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid), or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

(4) The expression " safety fuze ", as used in these rules, means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze would not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

(5) The expression " safety cartridge ", as used in these rules,—

(i) means a cartridge for small arms, the case of which can be extracted from the small arm after firing, and which is so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges ; and

(ii) includes a rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridge, if it is as described in clause (i), whether it is for use with a machine-gun having chambers identical with those of rifles or with a machine-gun having special chambers :

Conditions.

This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder.

2. The licensee shall keep records and accounts of all explosives in stock, and of all sales in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. There shall not be at the same time in the magazine any quantity of explosives exceeding the quantity specified in the license.

4. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of the explosives specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosives.

5. The interior of the magazine, and the benches, shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substances in such manner as to come into contact with the explosives; and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings, shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean; and, in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom:

Provided that so much of this condition as relates to precautions against the exposure of any iron or steel and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substances shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the first division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept.

6. The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning conductor, which shall be tested at least once during the currency of the license.

7. Before repairs are done to any room or magazine or part thereof, the same shall, as far as is practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosives or mixed ingredients thereof, and the thorough washing out of such room, magazine or part; and after such cleaning these conditions shall cease to apply to such room, or part of the magazine until any explosive is again taken into it:

Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a magazine in which no explosive other than an explosive of the first division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept.

Provided that so much of this condition as applies to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the first division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept.

10. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

12. (1) Two or more descriptions of explosives which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine may be possessed in the same magazine if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other:

(2) Provided as follows:

(a) the various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound), and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuzes belonging to the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition) and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on the 8th July, 1905, and is hereby published for information, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons :—

THE BENGAL DISORDERLY HOUSES BILL, 1905.

A

BILL

To provide for the discontinuance of brothels and disorderly houses in certain localities in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the discontinuance of brothels and disorderly houses in certain localities in Bengal; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Disorderly Houses Act, 1905;

(2) It applies to all Municipalities constituted under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884; and Ben. Act III of 1884.

(3) The Lieutenant-Governor may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend it to any specified local area not being a Municipality.

Power to direct discontinuance of use of house as a brothel or by disorderly persons.

2. (1) When any Magistrate of the first class receives information— [Cf. Act XVI of 1903, s. 167; Act XX of 1891, s. 204.]

(a) that any house in proximity to any educational institution or to any boarding-house connected with an educational institution is used as a brothel, or is used by disorderly persons of any description, or

(b) that any house is used as aforesaid to the annoyance of respectable inhabitants of the vicinity, or

(c) that any house in the immediate neighbourhood of a cantonment is used as a brothel, he may summon the owner, tenant, manager or occupier of the house to appear before him; and, if satisfied that the house is used as described in clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c), as the case may be, may, by written order, direct such owner, tenant, manager or occupier to discontinue such use:

Provided that action under this sub-section shall be taken only—

(i) with the sanction or by the order of the District Magistrate; or

(ii) on the complaint of three or more persons resident in the immediate vicinity of the house to which the complaint refers.

(2) If any person who is directed, by an order made by a Magistrate under sub-section (1), to discontinue the use as aforesaid of any house, fails to obey such direction within a period of five days from the date of the order, the Magistrate may impose on him a fine which may extend to twenty-five rupees for every day after the expiration of that period during which the house is so used.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to empower Magistrates of the first class to direct the discontinuance of the use of houses (1) as brothels, or by disorderly persons, in proximity to any educational institution or to the annoyance of respectable residents, or (2) as brothels, in the immediate neighbourhood of a cantonment. In order to prevent vexatious prosecutions, it is declared that action may be taken only with the sanction or by the order of the District Magistrate, or on the complaint of three or more residents of the neighbourhood. The Act will apply in the first instance to all provincial municipalities; but power is taken to extend it, as occasion may require, to non-municipal areas. The draft follows in the main section 167 of the Central Provinces Municipal Act, 1903 (XVI of 1903), and section 204 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1891 (XX of 1891).

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices are published for general information.

Secretary, Marine Department.

CALCUTTA, the 6th July 1905.

BAY OF BENGAL—HUGHLI RIVER APPROACH.

General Instructions.

No. 257 (first publication).—The following "Directions" are laid down for the guidance of Pilots, Masters of vessels, and others, in supersession of the instructions on pages 215, 216 and 217 of the third edition of the Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1901.—

Pilot steamer and brigs—Cruising station.

The pilot steamer is of 1,000 tons, painted white with three masts and yellow funnel. The brigs are of about 300 tons, painted black, with white stripes and imitation ports and double top-sail yard. All pilot vessels by day will fly a large blue flag at the main, when inward bound vessels are sighted; and at night will exhibit the regulation lights and flare up.

During the south-west monsoon, pilot vessels will invariably cruise about 8 miles south to south-west of the Eastern Channel light vessel. During the north-east monsoon they cruise or anchor 4 to 5 miles west to north-north-west of the same light-vessel.

Pilotage—Is compulsory for all merchant vessels over 100 tons.

If a pilot is not taken at the cruising station, one cannot be obtained in the river.

Approach—Directions.—Steam vessels arriving at the Sandheads and finding the pilot steamer on the station should close with her and lie to about 300 yards distant under her stern in such a manner as to make a lee for the pilot boat, when a pilot will be supplied.

To avoid delay, approaching steam vessels should, when about half a mile off the pilot vessels, indicate their tonnage by the following steam whistle signals:—

Over 3,400	tons gross	...	...	One short blast.
Between 2,800 and 3,400	,,	...	...	Two ,, ,,
,, 1,800 and 2,800	,,	...	...	Three ,, ,,
Under 1,800	,,	...	.	Four ,, ,,

Sailing vessels should signal net tonnage.

Sailing vessels should approach within safe distance of the steam pilot vessel and then heave to on the starboard tack when a pilot will be supplied.

Steam vessels on closing with the pilot brig for a pilot should lie under her stern or weather quarter, and after receiving a pilot tow the boat to windward of the brig. Sailing vessels should invariably lie to on the same tack as the pilot brig, unless signalled to the contrary.

During bad weather when boating is not safe or when there are no pilots in the station, pilot vessels during daylight will not show the blue flag, and at night will not exhibit the regulation lights or flare up light for pilot vessels engaged on the station. Masters of inward bound vessels should pay particular attention to any signals made under these circumstances.

Sailing vessels should not run for the station at night or in threatening weather. Under such circumstances put the vessel under small sail while in deep water and keep to the sea until daylight. The lead should be kept going constantly.

Vessels arriving at the pilot* station and finding the pilot vessel at anchor must use the utmost caution in closing her on account of the strong tidal streams. When easterly winds prevail there is a strong set to the westward; it is then specially incumbent on strangers to take advice given from the pilot vessel. In arriving at night do not heave-to to windward of the brig if intending to take a pilot before day light, but close as soon as possible, approaching round the brig's stern, whether at anchor or under way.

* Lloyd's Agents at Calcutta have facilities for delivering orders there.

In August, September, and October, when sailing vessels are signalled to keep to windward from there being no pilots, or other causes, they should be most careful to keep the light vessels or brigs in sight, for should the wind fall light they are liable to be set out to sea, and particularly in the two latter months may not be able to return for many days.

Signals from the brig to prepare for bad weather should not be ignored.

The tidal stream should be studied; the first of the flood setting westward, stand eastward; the first of the ebb settting eastward, stand westward and northward.

A kedge anchor is useful. Strangers anchoring below or at any distance off the light-vessel, should endeavour to near the brig and not remain at onchor. The practice of rounding the brig close-to, in a sea-way, is dangerous both to the brig and to the boat alongside; it almost swamps the boat, and the ship, on being brought to the wind, gets a rapid stern board on to the brig, which has often great difficulty in getting clear.

Caution.—Should it be necessary when approaching the Hughli river (Sandheads) in heavy weather to anchor from any cause, if possible anchor outside the line joining Eastern Channel and Mutlah light vessels in not less than 15 fathoms, mud, and do not close the pilot brigs until the weather moderates.

A vessel will ride easier and bring less strain on her cable if anchored in depths of 15 to 20 fathoms, than in less depths, especially in an estuary. In the greater depths, the cable is never quite taut, and therefore is not so liable to part, and also the waves have less force than when they are breaking in the shoaler water.

RESOLUTION No.—1173T.G.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Reformatory Schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh for the year 1904.

The number of boys admitted to the Reformatory Schools in 1904 was 101, this being the lowest figure recorded since 1899. It is reported that the lists of admissions were, in accordance with the instructions issued by the Government of Bengal in 1901, examined by the Boards of Management with a view to ascertaining whether any of the inmates might not have been better dealt with under section 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, or section 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, which provide for the discharge of youthful offenders after due admonition, or for their being set at liberty on probation or on security for good conduct being furnished by their parents or guardians. The result of this scrutiny was that 17 boys were released, as against 28 in the previous year. It is noticed with satisfaction that the provisions cited above are being more freely resorted to;

for, as has been ascertained from the judicial returns for the year under review, 42 youthful offenders were dealt with under section 31 of the Act of 1897 and 365 under section 562 of the Code of 1898, the corresponding figures for 1903 having been 30 and 269, respectively.

2. The health of the boys in the Reformatories was on the whole good. The number of admissions to hospital in the Alipore institution showed a marked decrease, while the total for the two schools was 141 as against 173 in 1903. There was a distinct and satisfactory improvement in discipline, the number of punishments falling from 172 to 158, and the decrease being most marked in respect of cases in which confinement was ordered. Due attention has been directed to sports and amusements; and this is especially the case at Alipore, where a bugle class has been formed and sanction was obtained for the creation of a school band.

3. The training of the boys at Alipore is mainly industrial, and that at Hazaribagh agricultural. Of 148 boys who were under training in the Alipore school during the year, 138 were taught trades, while at Hazaribagh 82 out of 147 were taught agriculture. There has been during the last three years but little variation in the figures showing the occupations of the boys discharged. A considerable proportion, 69 out of 333, were untraced. Of the others, 70 out of 125, who had been taught agriculture, were found to be engaged in that occupation, in addition to 19 who had not been so trained. Only 52 out of 208 were following the trades which they had been taught, while 46 were engaged in other industries, 32 were unemployed, and 25 relapsed into crime and were reconvicted. The results of the training, if tested by the working of the licensing system, are, however, not very satisfactory. There has been a marked falling off in the number of boys licensed out during 1904, as compared with the preceding year; the figures being 75 as against 114. The decrease occurred chiefly in Hazaribagh, where the question has been under consideration, and the conclusion seems to have been arrived at that the conditions are not favourable for an extension of the system. An improvement is observed in the conduct of the boys licensed out from Alipore, and it appears that only 8 of these absconded from their employers, as against 19 in 1903. The partial failure of the system is attributed to the small remuneration which the boys can earn, and this again is said to be partly due to the fact that most of the boys are licensed as mill-hands, an occupation for which they have received no previous training. The Government has sanctioned the introduction of a weaving class at Alipore, and when it is opened, an improvement in this connection may be anticipated; but this has had to be postponed, as a scheme for the removal of the school to a new site is under consideration. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that boys under license are now being assisted with money during their probationary period, and that this has led to a decrease in the number of failures. An offer recently made by Messrs. Cooper, Allen and Company of Cawnpore to receive boys from the schools and train them in the manufacture of leather, or as carpenters, iron-workers, blacksmiths, and mechanics has been welcomed by the Lieutenant-Governor as affording an opportunity to the boys to follow occupations which they learn at school; and it is hoped that, by means of a sensible relaxation of the licensing rules, a considerable number of boys may eventually find profitable employment and useful careers in this way.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. W. C. CARNDUFF,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT UNDER SECTION 41 OF BENGAL ACT I OF 1893 ON THE WAREHOUSES IN HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st MARCH 1905.

No. 1286 L.S.-G.—The 7th July 1905.—The following report is published for general information.

E. A. GAIT,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

From—H. T. S. FORREST, Esq., Chairman of the Howrah Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

I HAVE the honour to report that 270 warehouses were licensed in 1904-05 out of 300 registered during that year, against 267 out of 325 registered in 1903-04, the details being as follows:—

Years.		Jute.	Cotton.	Straw.	Wood.	Hay.	Total.
Registered	1903-04 ...	34	36	53	201	1	325
	1904-05 ...	40	39	37	183	1	300
Licensed	1903-04 ...	28	30	36	172	1	267
	1904-05 ...	31	32	35	171	1	270

2. The income from license-fees during the year under report amounted to Rs. 8,920, of which Rs. 219 were arrears for 1903-04, besides Rs. 418-7 actually set off this year, which were collected in 1903-04 in excess, Rs. 67-1-6 being still kept to be set off in 1905-06, against Rs. 10,938 for 1903-04, of which Rs. 534 were arrears for 1902-03. The cause of this decrease is the reductions of rates on jute from 5½ to 5 per cent., on cotton from 4 to 3 per cent., on wood from 4½ to 4 per cent., and on all others from 3¾ to 2½ per cent.

3. The demand, collection, remission and balance for 1904-05 are shown in Appendix A. The details of jute and cotton warehouses registered and of licenses granted during the year are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 207 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood and hay in 1904-05 against 209 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B, and it may be noted that such license-fees have only been levied under the Fire-brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

4. There were 32 prosecutions in the year under review, which realized in fines Rs. 180-8 as against 44 in the previous year when Rs. 244-8 was realized.

5. The expenditure incurred in assessing and collecting license-fees amounted to Rs. 938 as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Salary of General Supervisor and Assessor ...	600
Ditto Inspector, including commission ...	228
Ditto clerk	60
Ditto peon	48
Contingencies	2
Total ...	938

6. The Fire-brigade establishment continued under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The Fire-brigade station in Howrah stands in a very central position north of the Municipal market, and from a wooden stage raised above it the whole town is overlooked. There were ten fires during the year, the details of which are given in Appendix C. There were also four other petty fires, at all of which the Fire-brigade attended, while they were extinguished by residents of the localities.

7. The Commissioner of Police demanded Rs. 9,991 for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade in 1904-05, and this amount was remitted to him during the year.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; ● continued rain.

Proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal assembled under the provisions of the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892.

The Council met in the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 8th July, 1905, at 11 A.M.

Present:

The Hon'ble SIR ANDREW FRASER, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.

The Hon'ble MR. L. HARE, C.I.E.

The Hon'ble Mr. K. G. GUPTA.

The Hon'ble MR. B. L. GUPTA.

The Hon'ble MR. P. O'KINEALY, Advocate-General of Bengal.

The Hon'ble MR. F. W. DUKE.

The Hon'ble MR. R. W. CARLYLE, C.I.E.

The Hon'ble MR. H. W. C. CARNDUFF, C.I.E.

The Hon'ble MR. E. A. GAIT.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU, M.A., B.L.

The Hon'ble MR. A. A. APCAR.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR.

The Hon'ble BABU NALIN BEHARI SIRCAR, C.I.E.

The Hon'ble MR. J. CHAUDHURI, M.A.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad.

The Hon'ble RAJA BAN BEHARI KAPUR, C.S.I.

NEW MEMBERS.

The Hon'ble MESSRS. DUKE and GAIT took their seats in Council.

THE LATE HON'BLE BABU SALIGRAM SINGH.

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen,—It was with very great regret that I received the other day the news of the sudden death of our hon'ble colleague, Babu Saligram Singh. In the kindly references which were made to the deceased gentleman in the High Court a week ago, testimony was borne by Bench and Bar alike to the high respect in which he was held as a member of the legal profession; and I shall not repeat what was said then.

"Our late colleague served in this Council for two years (1897-1899) as the representative of Municipalities in the Patna Division; and he was again nominated a Member of the Council on the 15th December, 1903, as the representative of the Bihar Landholders' Association. He served on Select Committees in connection with some important measures, and took an honourable part in the work of the Council. He never spoke unnecessarily, or without having something to say that was worth hearing and likely to throw light on the subject under discussion. He was an able lawyer, helpful in Select Committee work, and invariably courteous, considerate and tactful in the Council. I may perhaps be permitted to add that his intimacy with me as a Member of the Council led me to appreciate very highly his broad views and wide sympathies and genial character. He was honest and upright and independent, and withal desirous to render assistance to the Government and to advance the interests of the people. I have frequently had to consult him in regard to important questions affecting this Province; and I have always felt that I received from him the best advice that he could give, in full view of all the interests (sometimes conflicting) which were involved in the matter under consideration at the time. I specially valued the advice and assistance which he rendered—or rather I perhaps ought to say was rendering—to me in regard to legislation affecting the relations between landlords and tenants. He knew the law well; and he understood well the interests of both parties. The advice which he was able to give me was therefore of great value, and I shall greatly miss his kindly and cheery fellowship in the discussions to which I am now looking forward in connection with this subject.

"I am sure that I shall meet the wishes of this Council when I communicate to his bereaved family an expression of our sympathy and of the deep regret with which we have heard of his untimely death."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT SCHEME.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what progress has been made with the scheme for the improvement of Calcutta, and, if any legislation is necessary in connection with such scheme, when is the same to be undertaken?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"The proposals regarding the structural improvement of Calcutta are still before the Government of India, and the Lieutenant-Governor is not in a position to make any statement regarding them."

SEPTIC TANKS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(1) Will the Government be pleased to state what action it has taken on the report of the Septic Tanks Committee?

(2) Is it not the opinion of the experts consulted by the Committee that the effluents of these tanks, though clear to the eye, are full of dangerous microbes?

(3) Has the Government taken any steps to stop the flow from the septic tanks into the river above Tolly's Nala, as recommended by the Committee?

(4) Has the Government considered that Tolly's Nala is only about two miles from the pumping station at Mullick Ghat for the supply of unfiltered water to the town, and is in close proximity to the Watgunge Pumping Station and that with the tides the contents of the septic tanks below Tolly's Nal, passing through the unfiltered water system would be dangerous to the town?

(5) Is the Government aware that there has been of late a marked increase in typhoid fever in the Northern Division of the town? Will the Government be pleased to inquire whether this has any connection with the contamination of the water-supply of Calcutta?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"The Septic Tank Committee were unable to submit a final report. They found that although the effluents of these tanks are clear to the eye and chemically fairly pure, they still contain large numbers of bacteria at the points where they are discharged into the river. This contamination, however, rapidly disappears; and it was not noticeable in the immediate neighbourhood of the Pulta intake. The Committee were of opinion that the biological defects of the effluents might be got rid of if they were further purified by filtration through sand. Captain Megaw, I.M.S., was accordingly placed on special duty to conduct experiments with a sand filter. His report has just been received. The results obtained by him were not altogether satisfactory, but this was due largely to defects in the particular installation to which his sand filter was attached. The principal Medical Adviser of Government is of opinion that the experiment affords reasonable ground for anticipating that, by improving the installations, it will be possible to make the effluents harmless. The great importance of the matter is admitted, and Government is considering the further steps to be taken in order to arrive at a solution of the problem. Meanwhile permission will not be given to construct any new installations discharging into the Hooghly. It is not proposed at present to interfere with the existing installations. As remarked by the Committee, they are a marked improvement on the old insanitary latrines, and their abolition would probably increase rather than diminish the pollution of the river.

"During the first six months of the present calendar year 37 cases of typhoid fever have been reported from the two northern districts of the city against 19 cases in the corresponding part of last year. The figures in both cases are small, and the Health Officer does not connect this disease with the filtered water-supply."

THE MUHAMMADAN METHOD OF EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

Considering the fact that no reference has been made to the Muhammadan Method of Education in the Senior Teachers' Manual under the new scheme, and the large number of Muhammadan students under vernacular instruction, will the Government be pleased to add a Chapter on the "Muhammadan Method" in Part I under the heading of "Introduction" in the said Manual?

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"Hitherto 'Muhammadan Method' has not been dealt with separately, apparently on the principle that the methods of teaching most subjects in the ordinary school course are the same, whether the pupils to be taught are Muhammadans or Hindus. But, in view of the special scheme for establishing model maktabs and improving Muhammadan Education generally, which has recently been sanctioned, an additional chapter dealing with such points as may seem to require attention will probably be included in the next edition of the Senior Teachers' Manual."

ESTABLISHMENT OF A SUB-DIVISION AT GOPALGUNGE (IN FARIDPUR).

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BABU asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the progress made in establishing a sub-division at Gopalgunge, in the district of Faridpur, as proposed and sanctioned by the late Sir John Woodburn?

(b) In view of the fact that most of the villages within the jurisdiction of Gopalgunge lie very far away from the district head-quarters, and also of the absence of any means of communication between this part of the district and the head-quarter station for the greater part of the year, either by land or by water, and of the consequent prevalence of crime and the hardships and inconveniences to litigants in the villages under that thana, will the Government be pleased to consider the expediency of transferring this tract of land from Faridpur to Khulna, the head-quarters of which district is within very easy reach from the area in question?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"Reports from the Commissioners of the Dacca and Presidency Divisions have just been received and are under consideration."

SUBORDINATE APPOINTMENTS IN THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(1) Is it a fact that the Government has reserved 30 per cent. of the subordinate appointments in the Board of Revenue for Europeans and Eurasians?

(2) Will the Government be pleased to explain the reasons which have led to the special reservation of appointments for a particular class in the Board of Revenue apart from any question of merit or ability?

(3) Does the Government think such reservation consistent with the terms of the Proclamation of Her late Majesty?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied.—

"(1) Yes.

"(2) That it has been held to be important to have a considerable proportion of Europeans or Eurasians in the Board's office in connection with the work of certain departments (e.g., Opium and Salt).

"(3) There appears to be nothing inconsistent with the Proclamation of Her Majesty Queen Victoria in reserving a certain number of appointments for a particular class of the community."

APPOINTMENT OF POLICE INSPECTORS.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to certain paragraphs which appeared in the Bengalee of the 8th June, 1905 (Dâk Edition), touching the appointment of Police Inspectors under the new scheme? Is it true, as stated in the said paragraphs, that out of twenty-four appointments made only four have been given to Indian candidates, whose number was no less than 293 and sixteen of whom had been selected and summoned by wire to attend the office of the Inspector-General of Police? If only four of the appointments have been given to Indians, who have received, or are intended to receive the remaining twenty? Is it true that they have all been given away to Europeans or Eurasians?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a list of all the twenty-four appointments made as noticed above, giving the names of the persons appointed, their race or nationality and their educational qualifications, together with any other recommendation that they may possess?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"1. The Lieutenant-Governor has perused the paragraphs of the Bengalee referred to in the Hon'ble Member's question. They are misleading and inaccurate.

"It is not true that out of twenty-four new appointments of Inspectors of Police, four have been given to Natives of India and the rest are reserved for Europeans and Eurasians. Out of the increase in the cadre of Inspectors of Civil Police sanctioned on the recommendation of the Police Commission, twenty-nine appointments have been made. Five have been made direct and twenty-four by the promotion of deserving Sub-Inspectors. All twenty-nine appointments have been given to Natives of India. The newspaper extract, which forms the basis of the Hon'ble Member's question, omits to mention the twenty-four new appointments which have been conferred on Natives of India already in the Police.

"For service in the Armed Police, twenty-two European Inspectors have been appointed. It has been decided that for the Armed Police to perform the duties required of it in the event of a widespread disturbance, the force attached to each district must be officered by a European Inspector. Training the Armed Police in drill and discipline is the main duty of these Inspectors; and they are quite distinct from the Civil or Investigating staff. The men appointed are all Europeans, who have been trained in the Army; and they are the only persons who have the necessary qualifications for filling these appointments.

"2. The second question of the Hon'ble Member does not require a separate answer after the above explanation."

BIL-ROUTE CANAL IN THE DISTRICT OF FARIDPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

May I inquire if there is any agreement or understanding between Government and any Company with regard to the Bil-route Canal in the district of Faridpur? If so, will the Government be pleased to inform the Council what is the nature of this agreement and what are its terms? And will the Government be further pleased to furnish a statement showing year by year the outlay made, the traffic charged, and the profits received in connection with this canal?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"No agreement or understanding exists between Government and any Company with respect to the Bil-route Channel.

"A statement is laid on the table which shows the state of the capital and revenue accounts of this project for each year."

Statement referred to in the above Answer.

MORTALITY IN THE DISTRICT OF FARIDPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—

It appears that in 1897 the late Dr. P. M. Gupta, then Civil Surgeon of Faridpur, reported that the ever-increasing mortality in the district from malarial fever was referable, among other causes, to the objectionable practice of steeping jute in every available pool or stagnant water; and in paragraph 11 of the Government Resolution on the annual report of the Sanitary Commissioner for the same year it was directed that the attention of the Civil Surgeons should be drawn to the remarks made by the Civil Surgeon of Faridpur, and that they should be requested to consider what effect the said practice had on the health of their respective districts. Will the Government be pleased to state what action was taken upon this Resolution? And will the Government be further pleased to publish all the reports and opinions received in connection with this question?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied:—

"A summary of the opinions of the Medical Officers who were asked to inquire regarding the alleged injurious effects of jute-steeping on the public health will be found in paragraph 44 of the Sanitary Commissioner's Report for the year 1898. The Sanitary Commissioner and most of the Civil Surgeons consulted by him were of opinion that the practice, though disagreeable, is not proved to be specially favourable to the development of Malaria. The fever mortality is lowest during the season when jute-steeping is carried on. The operation is a necessary one and cannot be wholly prohibited, but District Boards and Municipalities have power to set apart public springs and reservoirs for drinking and culinary purposes and to prevent their pollution in this or in any other manner."

THE OFFICE OF DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, BENGAL.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state why it was that no member of the Indian Educational Service was appointed to officiate as Director of Public Instruction in Bengal during the absence of Mr. Alexander Pedler on leave?

(b) Is there any precedent for putting the Assistant Director, who is a very junior member of the Service, in charge of the Director's office during the Director's absence from India?

(c) Is there any foundation for the report which has found currency in the local press that it is the intention of Government to appoint a member of the Indian Civil Service as Director of Public Instruction in Bengal on the retirement of Mr. Alexander Pedler?

(d) Was it not laid down by Lord Dufferin in his Minute on the appointment of Mr. White, I.C.S., as the Director of Public Instruction in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, that, failing a competent member of the Educational Service qualified for the post of Director of Public Instruction in any Province, the Educational Departments of other provinces are to be indented upon before the appointment can be given to a member of the Indian Civil Service; and is the rule laid down in the Minute considered to be in force in Bengal, or has it been supplanted by any special or later instructions from the Government of India, and if so, when and to what effect?

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"The appointment of an officer to officiate for Mr. Pedler during his recent leave was considered unnecessary. The leave was short; and the time was not the inspection season. The duties of his office were, therefore, entrusted to his assistant.

"As to Mr. Pedler's successor, the discretion of the Government is not limited in the choice of a Director in the manner indicated in the question. The choice depends on all the circumstances and requirements of the case. These have been submitted for the consideration of the Government of India."

RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE DISTRICT CIVIL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Has the attention of the Government of Bengal been drawn to the scheme of re-organization of the District Civil Service in Bengal, put forward in the last number of the new Calcutta monthly, The Indian World; and will the Government be pleased to state if it considers the scheme to be feasible, and, if not, what stands in the way of its being put into operation?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"The Government does not consider it expedient to enter in Council into the discussion of such Magazine articles."

THE BENGAL DISORDERLY HOUSES BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the discontinuance of brothels and disorderly houses in certain localities in Bengal. He said:—

"Sir, I have to move for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the discontinuance of brothels and disorderly houses in the vicinity of educational institutions, or in the immediate neighbourhood of cantonments, in Bengal.

"In March, 1903, the Government was asked in this Council whether it was aware of the existence in a number of stations in the mufassal of houses of ill-fame in close proximity to colleges, schools and hostels; and it was suggested that measures should be taken to enforce their removal from such localities. The reply then given was to the effect that the Government was aware of the evil referred to and the danger indicated; but that the question raised was one of great difficulty, as it appeared that the removal of houses of ill-fame, as such, could not be enforced. The matter was not, however, allowed to drop: on the contrary, careful inquiries were at once instituted, and the problem has since been examined from every point of view. It appears that a 'disorderly' house may be, and frequently is, kept in a perfectly quiet and orderly manner, and that, when this is so, although its presence is none the less a source of temptation to students attending colleges and schools in the neighbourhood, neither it nor its inmates can be interfered with under the law as it stands. Moreover, where interference is possible, it rests with private persons to take the initiative; and there is often a reluctance on the part of respectable men and women to come forward as complainants or witnesses in cases of the kind. The expediency of dealing with the evil can hardly be gainsaid, and the necessity for legislating afresh has, therefore, been faced. A Bill has been drafted on the lines of the provisions in force on the subject in the Punjab and the Central Provinces; the opportunity has been taken to include within its scope brothels in the immediate neighbourhood of military cantonments; and it is proposed that, while power should be taken in wide terms to direct the discontinuance of the use of a house as a brothel or by disorderly persons, that power should be conferred only upon Magistrates of the first class acting either with the sanction of the District Magistrate or on the complaint of three or more residents of the locality concerned. As to the operation of the measure, it is thought that it should extend in the first instance to mufassal municipalities only, but should be capable of extension to other than municipal areas, in which, indeed, the evil may, owing to the absence of any local authority and any public opinion, be even more pronounced than in the larger towns. Such, Sir, is the Bill which I seek leave to introduce to-day."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF then introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"Sir,—With your permission I wish to make a few observations with regard to this Bill. I offer my congratulations to Your Honour's Government for the introduction of this measure into this Council, and I am glad that the Bill has come for discussion under Your Honour's regime. This is a piece of legislation for which the people have repeatedly prayed, resolutions requesting the Government to undertake legislation on these lines were passed in two Conferences which met in Bengal, and the Bill has come none too soon. There is one omission in the Bill, however, which I wish to bring to the notice of this Council. If any municipal area more than another requires protection from the evil sought to be checked by this measure, it is the town of Calcutta, and the Bill omits Calcutta altogether. I had the privilege of taking Your Honour down to visit an educational institution in Chitpur Road, which has been in existence for more than 75 years, and I called Your Honour's attention to the disgraceful and scandalous surroundings of the road through which Your Honour drove down. It is not only the proximity of educational institutions which requires to be protected, but the great arterial roads through which flow the student population to our educational institutions should also be cleansed and purified. Thanks to the energy of Mr. Bignell, Cornwallis Street, about which are located our principal schools and colleges, have been cleared of its unwholesome surroundings, but after a great deal of expense and trouble, because section 43 of the Calcutta Police Act is rather difficult to put into operation: it lays down conditions which must exist before these houses can be dealt with—conditions which, as the hon'ble mover has pointed out, may not be found to exist simultaneously. I would, therefore, appeal to Your Honour's Government to extend the provisions of this Bill to Calcutta, and I am sure my appeal shall not be in vain.

"Sir, before I sit down I may be permitted to say that we have met to-day under very peculiar circumstances; and though I rejoice in the introduction of this measure into this Council, I find it difficult to express myself in the way I should like to. Our hearts are too full to-day with the recent intelligence of the calamity that has befallen us,—a calamity unparallelled in the days of the Moghul or the Pathan, a calamity before which the abrogation of the gracious Proclamation of Her late Majesty under the present regime sinks into utter insignifiance. Our hopes of a United Bengal, of a great Bengali-speaking nationality bound by common ties and prospering under a common Government, are gone. From henceforth the cup of bitterness will be our portion, and all our energies and efforts must be directed to counteract the disintegrating influences that threaten to overwhelm us. Sir, this is not the time to dwell on this question, but it is so near our hearts that I could not refrain from referring to it altogether.

"Though our hearts are heavy and our thoughts directed towards issues far more momentous than the Bill before Your Honour's Council, I venture to offer on behalf of the people our congratulations to Your Honour's Government on the introduction of this Bill into the Council and hope that its operation may be extended to Calcutta."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—"Sir, I rise to offer a most cordial welcome to the Bill which has just been introduced. The credit of bestowing State attention to the segregation and control of public houses with a view to safeguard the moral interests of the people belongs entirely to Your Honour's Government. Much has been done of late to purge many important parts of this great city from these growing nuisances, and it is a matter for the sincerest congratulation that the Government now proposes to extend its powerful hand to the cleansing of the Augean stables in the mufassal. The indiscriminate location of public houses in the heart of respectable localities and the congregation of disorderly and disreputable people in such places have long been a standing disgrace to many a mufassal town. These dens are not only the fruitful sources of public disturbances and annoyances, but they are actually making havoc among the students in the mufassal schools and colleges. If I remember aright, an attempt was made to deal with these abuses in 1894, when the Bengal Municipal Act was taken up for amendment by the Government of Sir Charles Elliott; but an opposition came from an unexpected quarter, and the feeble attempt was given up. I rejoice, therefore, to find that Your Honour's Government intends seriously to grapple with the situation by means of an independent legislation. I may have to offer a few suggestions as regards the simple provisions of this Bill; but this is not the occasion to do so, and I reserve them for a later stage of this short but wholesome measure.

"Sir, before Your Honour adjourns the Council for your autumn tour I feel it my painful duty, as a humble representative of East Bengal, to draw attention to a telegram from Reuter, as published in the morning papers of Thursday last, which has fallen like a bombshell among the people. It is said that the Secretary of State has accepted the Government of India's scheme for the partition of Bengal! The people as yet know not what that scheme really is and what a grim mockery of fate that they should be told that it has already received the sanction of the highest authority in the administration. In December and January last, attempts were made both in this as well as in the Supreme Council to obtain information on the subject; but Your Honour's Government could not, while the Government of India would not, vouchsafe any replies. Judging however by the light of this telegram, it would now seem, that while in this state of doubt and uncertainty not a few of us were sleeping in a fool's paradise fondly indulging in the dream that it is impossible for the British Government to condemn a whole people without giving them at least an opportunity to be heard in their defence, everything was being arranged quietly between the Government of India and the India Office to decide the fate of the unfortunate people of this Province. Their repeated prayers for the publication of the new scheme have thus gone entirely unheeded, while even the telegram which they sent to the Secretary of State, upon the vague, unauthorized information of the Standard and the Indian Daily News for the simple postponement of the final decision pending the receipt of a memorial which they have hastily despatched over the signatures of nearly 70,000 people of East Bengal, has also been disregarded. Sir, even the worst criminal has a right to be furnished with a copy of his indictment before he is condemned, but here the Government have decided the fate of over 30 millions of His Majesty's innocent subjects even without a hearing!

"It is also a melancholy irony of fate that this violent ukase, so painfully reminding the people of the utter futility of their opposition, should be issued at a time when they were so jubilant over the coming advent of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales. Sir, their Royal Highnesses will come and go; but the bleeding hearts of their future subjects that will undoubtedly bless them will also send forth the doleful strains of a mourning nation and mar the harmony of a great rejoicing. Sir, the struggle of a helpless people is probably over, and here drops the curtain over one of the saddest tragedies ever enacted on the political stage in this country. The map of Bengal may now be rolled up; for it will not be necessary to open it within another hundred years."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI said:—"I must congratulate the Government on the introduction of the Disorderly Houses Bill in to-day's Council. In the interests of the educational institutions and respectable neighbourhoods the want of such a measure has long been keenly felt both in this city and in the many important mufassal towns in Bengal, such as Bhagalpur and Dacca. But it is a matter of profound regret to me that neither this measure nor any measure passed by this Legislature is to have any operation either in Eastern Bengal or in Northern Bengal, which latter I would perhaps be the last man to represent in this Council. As for my constituency in particular, I mean the whole of the Rajshahi Division, the action of the Government in severing it from this Legislature and the capital of India is even more arbitrary than is the case with Eastern Bengal. The Government proposals for its partition have never been communicated to a single soul in the whole of Northern Bengal and no opportunity given to the people of those parts to express their opinion about the change. I am acquainted with the opinions, ideas and sentiments of the men of light and leading in Northern Bengal, and I know that they will regard this sudden and violent change in its constitution and administration as the greatest calamity that has befallen them under British rule. I can assure you, Sir, that profound grief and dismay have overtaken the whole of our people at the news that the Secretary of State has sanctioned the breaking up of the province and people of Bengal in spite of the protests from the whole of Bengal. The unanimous protest of the entire Bengali-speaking people has been ignored in a manner more becoming the Ministers of the Tsar than of the representatives of the most constitutional Monarch on the face of this earth."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"I wish simply to say this: though I have not interrupted Hon'ble Members in talking about a subject which is absolutely irrelevant to the subject now under discussion because I have no desire whatsoever either to appear to fail in sympathy with Hon'ble Members who appeal as they do, but also because I think that under the peculiar circumstances of the case it is only natural that they should wish to say a few words, but I think I must ask that Hon'ble Members do not abuse the patience of the Council, and that they do not use this privilege which is given to them to use language which cannot be approved from this Chair."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI continued:—"As we consider you, Sir, as not only the representative of our Sovereign, but the representative of our people as well, my humble prayer to you to-day is that you would convey to the Sovereign our unanimous feeling and deliberate opinion that His Majesty's Ministers have been ill-advised in adopting the scheme, and that His Majesty may yet be graciously pleased to stay the hands of his Ministers. With this prayer I resume my seat."

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF said:—"In reply to the observations made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, I take the opportunity of explaining that the question of legislating to meet in Calcutta the evils with which the Bill deals for the mufassal has not been overlooked. It is under the consideration of the Government."

The Motion that the Bill be read in Council was then put and agreed to, and the Bill was read accordingly.

The Council was then adjourned to a day to be notified hereafter.

Information dated 18th April 1905 has been received from H.B.M. Consul at Wonsan or Gensan that on 17th April the following regulations for vessels entering or leaving that port were put in force by the Japanese military authorities:—

(1) All vessels, except those belonging to the Japanese Imperial Navy, are prohibited from entering or leaving Wonsan bay between sunset and sunrise without special permission from the Commander of the port.

(2) Vessels entering or leaving must keep southward of an imaginary line joining the south-western point of Nikolskago island and the southern extremity of Sho shin to (Bretel island).

(3) The speed of vessels is not to exceed 5 knots when navigating within the area westward of imaginary lines joining Black rock (northward of Nakhi mova peninsula) to the north point of Kuprianova island and the eastern extremity of Nikolskago island, and from thence to Kodrika point. Wonsan harbour limit extends in a S. 70° W. direction from the western extremity of Muraveva point to a point on the coast about 4½ cables N. 52° W. from the red light at Khosui ri.

(4) Except the Commander of the port considers it necessary to enforce them, the regulations in paragraphs Nos. 2 and 3 do not apply to vessels under 20 tons displacement, cargo-boats or boats belonging to the Naval or Military departments, or boats under special permission from the Commander of the port.

(5) Any vessels infringing these regulations are liable to meet with an accident and to be fired upon at night.

Port Adelaide river—No. 2 Light Beacon removed and Red Light exhibited.

No. 279 (first publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 228, dated 24th June 1905, issued by this office, the President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further notice (No. 18 of 1905) informing Masters of Vessels, Pilots, and others that Deepening Operations in the vicinity necessitate the removal of No. 2 Light Beacon, and that on and after the 1st July next a Red Light in lieu thereof will be exhibited from the Red Pile Beacon south of No. 3. This Light on with No. 4 will point out when to turn off No. 1 lead (two Red lights) and direct the course towards No. 3 Light Beacon.

Sailing Directions.

By night.—In approaching the anchorage vessels of deep draught should not bring the White Light on the old structure to bear north of N. E. by E. in order to avoid the four-fathom patch, which bears N. W. ½ N. from the Light on Wonga Shoal; then get the outer leads [which consist of Two Red Lights vertical seven (7) feet apart and Two White Lights vertical seven (7) feet apart] in line; keep these in line passing between the Occulting Light on the Red Buoy and the Outer Green Light on the north bank, also between the other Green Lights on the north bank and the White Lights on the revetment mound.

Steer on the same line until the two Red Lights of No. 1 lead are coming on; then steer with them on line until the Red Light south of No. 3 Beacon is on with No. 4; then direct the course to pass a safe distance off No. 3; then steer for a like distance off No. 4, and so on from beacon to beacon round the point until No. 9 is reached. From a safe distance off No. 9 the lights of No. 10 lead will be seen; keep them in line until the Red Light is about a quarter of a point open to the right of the White Light of No. 11 lead; then gradually alter the course to bring the lights of No. 11 lead in line; keep them in line (a sharp lookout being kept for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand) until the lights of No. 12 lead are seen coming into line; proceed as before by altering the course before the lights are on with each other. The same applies in the change from No. 12 to No. 13 leads; when the lights on the wharves are seen opening out off Luff Point, alter the course so as to round the point at a safe distance, and then up the centre of the Channel, looking out for the Mooring Buoys on the starboard hand.

By day.—The directions by day are the same as by night, merely substituting the Beacons for the Lights.

In going outwards the directions are just the opposite to those given for coming inwards; but in such case, in changing from one lead to another, the course should be gradually altered when abreast of the Low (Red) Beacon of each lead.

This affects Admiralty Charts 2389B, 1750, and 1752.

BAY OF BENGAL—Hughli river approach.

General Instructions.

No. 257 (second publication).—The following "Directions" are laid down for the guidance of Pilots, Masters of vessels, and others, in supersession of the instructions on pages 215, 216 and 217 of the third edition of the Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1901:—

Pilot steamer and brigs—Cruising station.

The pilot steamer is of 1,000 tons, painted white with three masts and yellow funnel. The brigs are of about 300 tons, painted black, with white stripes and imitation ports and double top-sail yard. All pilot vessels by day will fly a large blue flag at the main, when inward bound vessels are sighted; and at night will exhibit the regulation lights and flare up.

During the south-west monsoon, pilot vessels will invariably cruise about 8 miles south to south-west of the Eastern Channel light vessel. During the north-east monsoon they cruise or anchor 4 to 5 miles west to north-north-west of the same light-vessel.

Pilotage—Is compulsory for all merchant vessels over 100 tons.

If a pilot is not taken at the cruising station, one cannot be obtained in the river.

Approach—Directions.—Steam vessels arriving at the Sandheads and finding the pilot steamer on the station should close with her and lie to about 300 yards distant under her stern in such a manner as to make a lee for the pilot boat, when a pilot will be supplied.

To avoid delay, approaching steam vessels should, when about half a mile off the pilot vessels, indicate their tonnage by the following steam whistle signals:—

Over 3,400	tons gross	...	...	One	short	blast.
Between 2,800 and 3,400	,,	...	...	Two	,,	,,
,, 1,800 and 2,800	,,	...	...	Three	,,	,,
Under 1,800	,,	...	...	Four	,,	,,

Sailing vessels should signal net tonnage.

Sailing vessels should approach within safe distance of the steam pilot vessel and then heave to on the starboard tack when a pilot will be supplied.

Steam vessels on closing with the pilot brig for a pilot should lie under her stern or weather quarter, and after receiving a pilot tow the boat to windward of the brig. Sailing vessels should invariably lie to on the same tack as the pilot brig, unless signalled to the contrary.

During bad weather when boating is not safe or when there are no pilots in the station, pilot vessels during daylight will not show the blue flag, and at night will not exhibit the regulation lights or flare up light for pilot vessels engaged on the station. Masters of inward bound vessels should pay particular attention to any signals made under these circumstances.

Sailing vessels should not run for the station at night or in threatening weather. Under such circumstances put the vessel under small sail while in deep water and keep to the sea until daylight. The lead should be kept going constantly.

Vessels arriving at the pilot* station and finding the pilot vessel at anchor must use the utmost caution in closing her on account of the strong tidal streams. When easterly winds prevail there is a strong set to the westward; it is then specially incumbent on strangers to take advice given from the pilot vessel. In arriving at night do not heave-to to windward of the brig if intending to take a pilot before day light, but close as soon as possible, approaching round the brig's stern, whether at anchor or under way.

* Lloyd's Agents at Calcutta have facilities for delivering orders there.

In August, September, and October, when sailing vessels are signalled to keep to windward from there being no pilots, or other causes, they should be most careful to keep the light vessels or brigs in sight, for should the wind fall light they are liable to be set out to sea, and particularly in the two latter months may not be able to return for many days.

Signals from the brig to prepare for bad weather should not be ignored.

The tidal stream should be studied; the first of the flood setting westward, stand eastward; the first of the ebb settting eastward, stand westward and northward.

A kedge anchor is useful. Strangers anchoring below or at any distance off the light-vessel, should endeavour to near the brig and not remain at onchor. The practice of rounding the brig close-to, in a sea-way, is dangerous both to the brig and to the boat alongside; it almost swamps the boat, and the ship, on being brought to the wind, gets a rapid stern board on to the brig, which has often great difficulty in getting clear.

Caution.—Should it be necessary when approaching the Hughli river (Sandheads) in heavy weather to anchor from any cause, if possible anchor outside the line joining Eastern Channel and Mutlah light vessels in not less than 15 fathoms, mud, and do not close the pilot brigs until the weather moderates.

A vessel will ride easier and bring less strain on her cable if anchored in depths of 15 to 20 fathoms, than in less depths, especially in an estuary. In the greater depths, the cable is never quite taut, and therefore is not so liable to part, and also the waves have less force than when they are breaking in the shoaler water.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1905.

PECULIAR interest attaches to the weather in June, inasmuch as it is the month which ushers in the monsoon. This interest was enhanced in the present year owing to the abnormal character of the weather during the preceding months and the uncertainty as to the effect of this irregularity in the strength and distribution of the monsoon. As far as June is concerned, the abnormality continued and showed itself in the difficulty which the monsoon current experienced in extending its influence over the province from the extreme eastern and north-eastern districts, where it had been established, though in a weak form, from a comparatively early period.

A premature advance of the monsoon current commenced as early as the first week and gave every promise of extending into the province. Its influence was, however, confined to the eastern half of the Bay, and was manifested in the rain which, starting on the South Burma coast, gradually travelled northwards, finally reaching East and North Bengal and Assam. This first advance may be said to have endured till the 7th, though its influence was felt in Assam and the adjacent districts of Bengal till the 9th.

The weather during this period over the remainder of the province was of the ordinary hot weather character. The fluctuations of pressure throughout had been unimportant, and the variation from the normal was never large, but the distribution was unfavourable to the advance of the moist winds westwards. Temperature, though it had a tendency to rise in the western half of the province after the 5th, did not shew any marked deviation from its average value.

A weakening of the monsoon in the centre of the Bay became apparent about the 7th or 8th of the month, and the effect of this weakening was soon shown in the province. Hot weather conditions gradually reasserted themselves, and were completely established over the whole of Bengal on the 10th, the monsoon current being confined to the south of the Bay. During this period abnormally hot weather prevailed, a series of most unusual temperature being recorded especially in the western half of the province.

Pressure, which on the 9th had been slightly above the normal, began to fall slowly from this date until finally on the 14th it was universally below the normal. It was not till the 14th that there was an appearance of a fresh advance of the monsoon in the northern half of the Bay, and on the 15th on account of a rapid fall of pressure in the north and a relatively slow fall in the south, the gradient over the Bay was extremely steep.

This fresh advance, however, though it gave fair and general rain to Assam and the neighbouring divisions of Bengal and some hopeful monsoon showers to South-West Bengal, failed again to penetrate into the western divisions. Its influence ceased in East Bengal on the 17th, but continued to be felt in North-East Bengal and Assam for some days later.

Abnormally high temperatures (both day and night) continued to be reported from all but the eastern divisions during this period.

It was not till the 19th that the fall of pressure mentioned above was checked, but the rise that thus set in failed to bring the pressure back to the normal before the 22nd. The most important feature, however, connected with the pressure during the present advance was that the distribution was again unfavourable to the movement of the rain-bearing currents westwards, though not to the same extent as during the advance of the first week.

The monsoon, which had weakened considerably in the Bay from the 18th, again after a short interval began to recover, and on the 23rd once more showed considerable strength in East and North Bengal as well as Assam. The distribution of pressure, however, was still unfavourable to a westward extension, and it was not till the end of the month that the formation of a cyclonic storm at the head of the Bay and its subsequent advance westwards across the continent helped to overcome the adverse pressure conditions, and to bring the much needed relief to the province. The fluctuations of pressure itself in these closing days of the month were, except during the actual development of the storm, unimportant and the departure from the normal was never more than moderate.

In South-West and Central Bengal, the temperature had during this final period been gradually sinking under the influence of the slowly advancing monsoon winds, but in the west it remained exceptionally high until the general burst of the monsoon which was brought about by the cyclonic storm of the last day of the month.

Pressure.—The most marked feature of the pressure was the almost continuous fall which took place from the 9th to the 19th.

During the first part of the month the variation from the normal was slight, while though the oscillations were more considerable during the closing period, the low pressure at its beginning was approximately balanced by the high pressure at the end. Thus, on the whole, mean pressure for the month was below the normal throughout the province; the defect, however, was less than ·05 of an inch at practically all stations.

Temperature, as might be expected from the above report, was above the normal over virtually the whole area, and the excess is shown in both maximum and minimum temperatures. The only part of the province where temperature was practically normal was the extreme north-east of Lower Bengal. The excess over the remainder increases in accordance with the nature of the weather during the month from east to west, being greatest in Chota Nagpur. In this division the mean maximum was 10° and the mean minimum 5½° to 6½° above the normal.

Rainfall was deficient for all the divisions. The deficiency was naturally least in North Bengal where the monsoon, though weak, established itself early in the month. In East Bengal likewise monsoon conditions were more or less in evidence during the whole of the month, though with more frequent intermissions than in the case of North Bengal. South-West Bengal and Orissa, on the other hand, were only feebly affected by the monsoon current till the end of the month, while into Bihar and Chota Nagpur it can hardly be said to have penetrated at all.

In South-West Bengal the rainfall was only 31 per cent. of the normal, in Bihar 22 per cent and in Chota Nagpur 17 per cent. In North Bengal, on the other hand, the defect was only 7 per cent.

The following table gives the rainfall of the various Divisions of Bengal in June, and in each of the previous months of the present year as compared with the normal values for the same periods. The figures given represent the actual falls expressed as percentages of the normal falls :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

MUNICIPAL DEARTMENT.

THE following letter from the Government of India in the Home Department is published for general information.

E. A. GAIT,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 93, dated Simla, the 18th July 1905.

From—H. A. STUART, Esq., C.S.I., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Home Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I AM directed to address you on the action to be taken at the present stage of the discussion on the Calcutta Improvement Scheme.

2. This project was the outcome of a sanitary survey of the town conducted in 1896 by a number of medical officers under the direction of the local Plague Commission. Their enquiries called prominent attention to the overcrowding of the northern portion of the town. It was pointed out that in one ward the population amounted to 145,000 per square mile as against 36,000 in the city of London; and it was calculated that, in the northern wards generally, 80 per cent. of the total space available was occupied by solid masonry buildings. The Building Commission appointed in 1897 accepted the views of the Sanitary officers, and emphasized the fact that the only remedy lay in extensive structural alterations involving the opening up of new roads and the provision of open spaces. Acting upon their report, the Lieutenant-Governor in July 1899 submitted his first proposals for a scheme of urban improvement.

3. The question has since been continuously under consideration. The difficulty throughout has been to devise a system of finance which would involve neither an excessive addition to local burdens nor an undue transference of these burdens to the general taxpayer. The first suggestion of the Local Government was to find the whole of the net income required, after allowing for recoupment and frontage rates from a tax on consumers of jute. The scheme as now formulated includes a tax on jute, but it is only one item in a programme of special taxation designed to reach every section of the urban population. A substantial contribution is now promised by the Government of India, who further undertake to guarantee the loans to be raised by the Improvement Trust; and the Corporation is to be called upon to contribute certain definite sums, and also to accept a general responsibility for the solvency of the Trust. The extent of the operations contemplated has also been greatly enlarged, the gross capital expenditure being now estimated at nearly $8\frac{1}{4}$ crores of rupees as against 5 crores in 1899. The necessity for this additional outlay arises from the inclusion of expenditure for open spaces as well as for roads, and from the recognition of the fact that if the work of the Trust is to be permanently effective the persons displaced by these operations must be accommodated elsewhere, while provision must also be made for the normal expansion of the town.

4. The scheme in its present form is mainly the work of a conference convened by the Lieutenant-Governor in 1904. On this conference the Government of India were represented by the Secretaries in the Home and Finance Departments, both of whom were then Bengal officers; the Local Government by the Lieutenant-Governor, who presided, and by his Financial Secretary; the Corporation by its Chairman, Mr. Greer, and three non-official members, one of whom, the Hon'ble Mr. E. Cable, was at that time President of the Chamber of Commerce, the others being the Hon'ble Dr. Ashutosh Mukhopadhyaya and Mr. Nalin Bihari Sircar, C.I.E. Three of the members had also been members of the Building Commission already mentioned. The conference was thus representative of the interests of the different classes of rate-payers and also of commerce; and included the best expert knowledge obtainable on questions of urban improvement and local finance.

5. It has been found necessary to suggest alternative forms of taxation in view of the probable abandonment of the scheme of succession duties proposed by the conference; and to provide for the possibility that the railway terminal tax approved by the conference may prove on further examination to be impracticable. To this extent its proposals have been modified or supplemented and new elements have been introduced which call for further examination by the Local Government and its advisers; but the main outlines remain unchanged.

The conditions of the case have involved throughout these earlier stages a reticence as to their intentions which both the Government of India and the Local Government would have been glad to avoid. And though they have meanwhile obtained such help as was possible from local knowledge and non-official advice they are impressed with the importance of submitting the scheme to a wider circle of criticism. They think that the time has now come when nothing further can be gained from confidential discussion, and that the whole scheme should be laid before the Corporation, and other representative bodies and the public generally, for examination and opinion. To assist the authorities consulted they have caused a detailed abstract of the measures suggested to be prepared in the memorandum which forms an enclosure to this letter. They desire to add that the scheme is to be regarded as provisional, and they will welcome any criticism, whether on the administrative or the financial aspect of the proposals, which may be designed to secure increased efficiency or a more satisfactory distribution of the burdens and sacrifices which the scheme involves.

6. I am now to request that, with the consent of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, the various public bodies concerned may be consulted on these proposals and that this letter and its enclosure may be published for general information. I am also to ask that the unsettled questions or points of detail mentioned in paragraphs 13, 16 and 19-21 of the memorandum may be further examined in the light of the remarks there made, and that the report of the Lieutenant-Governor on these matters, together with his final recommendations, may be communicated to the Government of India after he has had an opportunity of considering the opinions of the representative bodies whom it is proposed to consult.

CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT SCHEME: ANALYSIS OF PROPOSALS.

ADMINISTRATION.

Agency to be employed.

THE improvements will be carried out by a Trust constituted by an Act of the Lieutenant-Governor's Legislative Council.

Constitution of Trust.

2. The Trust will consist of a President and six Trustees, all appointed by the Government. The Chairman of the Corporation will be a Trustee ex-officio; two Trustees will be Municipal Commissioners, and one will be a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Operations of Trust.

3. The primary functions of the Trust will be—

(1) To construct new roads and improve existing roads.
(2) To provide open spaces.
(3) To provide accommodation for persons displaced by the foregoing operations, and also for the probable normal growth of population for a generation.
(4) To control, by means of building regulations, areas in the neighbourhood of those which have been acquired.

[Note.—(i) For the remodelling of the Calcutta bastis the Corporation will remain responsible, and this work will not be undertaken by the Trust except indirectly where it acquires land in a basti for the alignment of a new road or the provision of open spaces.

(ii) It is contemplated that the Trust should as far as possible limit itself to providing land for sites and not itself undertake the erection of dwelling houses.]

4. The Trust will also—

(1) Furnish the areas acquired with municipal conveniences, such as water, lighting and communications.
(2) Enforce sanitary conditions by requiring structural alterations of individual houses upon the motion of the General Committee of the Corporation followed by an order from a Magistrate.
(3) Acquire surplus lands, with a view to recoupment by their subsequent sale or lease.

Duration of Trust.

5. The Trust will be wound up and its assets and liabilities transferred to the Corporation as soon as the scheme of work is completed.

Methods and Scope.

6. (1) No detailed scheme will be prepared beforehand, as such a scheme would only be provisional and would facilitate fictitious claims.

(2) The general working plan will be—

(a) as regards roads, to traverse the area selected for operations by a system of roads 60 feet wide, some running north and south and others running east and west, with diagonal connections;

(b) as regards provision of open spaces, to acquire for this purpose areas of which a larger proportion than one-third is covered by buildings, and to remove buildings to such extent as may be necessary to reduce the proportion to not less than one-third. The unit to be dealt with will be about 40 acres;

(c) as regards acquisition of land for expansion, to select strips of land in the directions of probable expansion, as far as practicable, within the municipal limits of Calcutta, and otherwise in the adjacent suburban municipalities.

(3) The amount of work to be done is indicated by the following provisional and tentative figures:—

(a) roads to be constructed—15 miles;

(b) open spaces to be acquired at a probable cost, as mentioned below, of 172 lakhs of rupees;

(c) land to be acquired for expansion—2,000 acres, an area estimated to provide for a surplus population of 200,000 or more.

[Note.—If inadequacy of funds should necessitate the reduction of this programme, it is contemplated that operations under head (b) would probably be selected for curtailment.]

(4) Rate of progress.—These operations will take the form of separate schemes, each requiring the sanction of Government, which will be given with due regard to the actual and prospective assets of the Trust as determined by the experience gained up to the time at which each separate scheme is submitted. If receipts do not come up to anticipations the programme must be correspondingly curtailed. Otherwise it is expected to be completed in 20 years.

FINANCE.

Capital and loan transactions.

7. These are indicated in the following account:—

Charges.	Rs. lakhs.	Receipts.	Rs. lakhs.
On roads ...	... 500	Recoupment and recoveries from frontage owners.	336
On open spaces	... 172	Government grant ...	50
On land for expansion	... 100	Loans ...	... 436
On improvement of this land	50
Total	... 822	Total	... 822

8. Explanations—

(i) The estimated expenditure on roads (Rs. 33 lakhs per mile) is based on the actual results obtained in the case of Harrison Road.

(ii) The sum allotted for open spaces represents the amount which it is hoped may be available after providing for an adequate scheme of road construction, re-housing and expansion, and subject to the limitation of aggregate expenditure to a sum within the resources of the town.

(iii) The estimate for acquisition of land (Rs. 5,000 per acre) was adopted after enquiry as to the value of land in selected areas.

(iv) The estimate for improvement includes the provision of municipal conveniences [vide paragraph 4 (1) above].

(v) The item of Rs. 336 lakhs on the receipt side represents half of the anticipated expenditure on roads and open spaces (Rs. 500 + 172 lakhs). It is contemplated that the Trust should either (a) recoup itself by taking up excess land and re-selling it at the higher price to be expected for land brought into proximity with a new thoroughfare; or (b) that it should follow the methods of the Prusian Street Alignment Law, which dispenses with the procedure of acquisition and resale of excess land, and authorizes the recovery of a maximum of half the cost incurred in providing a new road directly from the owners of land adjacent to it. It is claimed for the latter alternative that it tends to eliminate the speculative element and also enforces the principle that a new street benefits the adjacent owner specially as well as the community generally. It is not necessary that the same method should be adopted throughout the city.

[Note.—As stated in paragraph 4 (3) above, it will be open to the Trust to lease the excess lands instead of reselling them where the latter course is less advantageous. But for purposes of calculation it is convenient to treat recoupment operations entirely under capital account.]

(vi) The Government grant of Rs. 50 lakhs has been approved by the Secretary of State, and takes the place in the Calcutta scheme of the substantial assistance given to the Bombay Improvement Trust by the grant of vacant Government lands and reclamation rights.

(vii) The loans will be repayable in 60 years and will be guaranteed by the Government of India This guarantee will be given subject to certain conditions regarding the contributions to be paid by the Corporation and its ultimate financial responsibility for the Trust which are explained in paragraph 11 below.

Revenue Account.

9. The revenue account broadly indicated in the following statement:—

Annual charge for interest and sinking fund.	20,35	Return from land taken up for housing and expansion.	3,00
Cost of management ...	1,00	Contributions and taxation ...	18,35
Total ...	21,35	Total ...	21,35

Explanations.

10. (i) The estimate for interest and sinking fund is based on the assumptions that the loans are floated at 4 per cent. and that the sinking fund is invested at an average rate of $2\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.

(ii) The item "Cost of management" includes inter alia the President's salary which the Conference proposed to place at a maximum of Rs. 3,000 per mensem, supplemented if the Local Government thinks fit, by a house allowance not exceeding Rs. 500 per mensem.

(iii) The estimate of "Return from land" is based on an assumed return of 2 per cent. on the total cost (Rs. 100 + 50 lakhs) of acquiring and improving land for housing and expansion. It will be open to the Trust to re-sell the land acquired instead of leasing it. (Cf. the converse case of recoupment by leases instead of re-sale).

(iv) The income from "Contributions and taxation" will be made up of (1) Contributions paid by the Corporation, and (2) Special taxation. The general principles under which it is proposed to distribute the burdens involved are (a) that an appreciable share of the immediate financial burdens, and complete financial responsibility in the event of default on the part of the Trust, must devolve upon the Corporation; (b) that as the improvement scheme will not to any important extent relieve the Corporation of its ordinary expenditure on the provision of municipal requirements, it must be financed in a large measure by special taxation; and (c) that the burden of taxation should be distributed as evenly as possible among the different classes benefited.

Contributions by Corporation.

11. The Corporation may contribute to the revenues of the Trust (a) from the normal growth of municipal revenues; (b) by the allocation to the Trust of revenue set free from time to time by the discharge of existing municipal loans; (c) by raising existing municipal taxes; and (d) from new taxation.

As regards (a), it is proposed that the Corporation should undertake to contribute 1½ per cent. on the rateable value of lands and buildings (estimated yield Rs. 3,60,000).

As regards (b) two alternative proposals have been considered by the Government of India.

The first is that the following amounts which become available by the liquidation of loans on the dates mentioned against each should be diverted to the purposes of the Trust. The second is that the first item only should be so diverted :—

(i)	Rs.	4,64,000	available on	31st December 1908.
(ii)	,,	45,500	,,	1st August 1908.
(iii)	,,	65,920	,,	1st May 1909.
(iv)	,,	1,26,890	,,	1st December 1910.
(v)	,,	1,60,000	,,	1st December 1911.
Total	... ,,	8,62,310

For the reasons indicated under clause (iv) (b) of paragraph 10 the Government of India prefer the second proposal.

As regards (c), there has been much discussion. The consolidated rate is now assessed at 19½ per cent. on rateable value ; the present legal maximum is 23 per cent. It has been represented that the margin between present and maximum rates must be regarded as hypothecated to drainage and water works schemes already contemplated. The Government of India are disposed to agree that the rates should not be made the mainstay of the improvement scheme, and with the possible exception* to be explained below they do not propose to call for any immediate addition to the rates now levied or for any increase in the legal maximum.

As regards (d) the Government of India are disposed to question whether the Corporation can meet the first of these demands (the 1½ per cent. contribution) as well as set aside so large a sum (Rs. 4,64,000) from loan payments unless new sources of revenue are placed at its disposal. They think it perferable, however, subject to the exception* already referred to, that the additional resources should be obtained from new taxation rather than from an addition to the consolidated rate. They accordingly propose that taxes should be imposed on petroleum† and also upon transfers† of immoveable property. The proceeds of these taxes will be credited to the Corporation.

The payment of the municipal contribution of 1½ per cent. on rateable value will also be secured in the manner provided in section† 72 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898.

Further, in the event of default on the part of the Trust in respect of loan instalments or sinking fund investments, the Corporation will be liable for the default in the manner prescribed by sections‡ 80—82 of the Bombay Act, under which the amount in default may be withdrawn from the municipal fund and set aside for the service of the loan, and a special tax may then be imposed to repay the sum withdrawn from the municipal fund.

12. The foregoing proposals may be thus summarized :—

(i) The Corporation will contribute a fixed amount (Rs. 4,64,000), plus a fluctuating amount (1½ per cent. on rateable value, now calculated to yield Rs. 3,60,000), to the revenues of the Trust.

(ii) The revenues of the Corporation itself will be supplemented by new taxes on petroleum and on transfers on immoveable property, to enable it to meet the second of these charges.

(iii) The contribution of 1½ per cent. will be further secured as explained above on the consolidated rates.

(iv) The Corporation will be liable for default on the part of the Trust.

13. The following information is added regarding the two municipal taxes above proposed :—

Transfer duty.—A duty on transfers was first suggested as an adjunct to the succession duty (vide paragraph 18 below) and to prevent evasion of the latter. As a tax standing by itself, it appears to be free from the objections which are held to make a succession duty impracticable. Being a tax on immoveable property, it is a suitable alternative to the enhancement of the rates which would otherwise become necessary if the Corporation were at any time unable to maintain its contributions. It is proposed to levy the tax at the rate of 1 per cent. on sales, gifts and usufructuary mortgages. The estimate of yield based on the recorded figures of gifts and sales only is Rs. 2,60,000. Separate statistics of usufructury mortgages are not readily obtainable. The details generally require to be further worked out.

The Government of India would be prepared to consider whether the tax should not be levied at 2 per cent., the additional 1 per cent being substituted for the owners' rate suggested in paragraph 17 below. But they are inclined to prefer the latter tax, as the yield would be less liable to fluctuations.

Petroleum tax.—The Conference considered a proposal to impose a tax on petroleum. At the rate of 4 annas per 10 gallons it was estimated to yield Rs. 1½ lakhs. This article is already taxed for Imperial purposes at a high rate (15 to 20 per cent. ad valorem). Further objections are that the yield would be uncertain ; the tax would be somewhat difficult to collect ; and it would press with special weight on the poor. The Conference rejected it largely on the last ground. If it is decided to adopt the railway terminal tax (vide paragraph

* See para. 17, "Special owners' rate."
† See para. 13 below.
‡ Vide Appendix A to this memorandum.

19 below) by which the poor would be effectively reached, the Government of India would prefer not to impose a tax on petroleum, and it would probably be possible also to reduce the contribution to be demanded from the Corporation. Otherwise they consider that the petroleum tax is required. Such a tax was approved by the Secretary of State at an earlier stage of the discussion and provision for such taxation already exists in the Calcutta Municipal Act.

Proposals for special taxation.

14. Under the above scheme the Corporation will provide Rs. 8,24,000 out of the total sum (Rs. 18,35,000) required from contributions and taxation. The remainder (Rs. 10,11,000) must be obtained from the proceeds of special taxation on behalf of Trust funds. The following suggestions for special taxation have at one time or another been put forward.

15. Jute Tax.—The Conference of February 1904 approved a proposal to levy an export duty of ¼ per cent. on the value of jute shipped from Calcutta, coupled with an excise on jute locally purchased (estimated yield Rs. 5,00,000). To prevent evasion a similar tax must be imposed on jute shipped from Chittagong, the proceeds of which will go to that port. This proposal has been minutely scrutinized. It has been criticized as a tax which will be paid by consumers of jute abroad and all over India, and which is therefore more suited for imperial than for local purposes. On the other hand it is contended that Calcutta is the financial and administrative head-quarters of the jute trade, both in respect of the raw material and of the manufactured product; that though the jute mills and presses being situated for the most part just outside Calcutta municipal limits escape municipal taxation on the metropolitan scale, the Companies have their head-quarters and are managed and financed in Calcutta itself; that they employ some 97,000 operatives who with their dependents enjoy the municipal conveniences of the town and contribute largely to its congestion, but practically pay no municipal taxes.

The tax is too small to injure the trade. It can be shown for example that the increase of 45 per cent. in the price of raw jute which occurred between 1898 and 1900 did not affect the exports. The fibre is in fact a quasi monopoly and a small duty is not likely appreciably to accelerate the discovery of a substitute. It is also to be noted that of the total export of jute only one-twentieth is consumed in India and about one-third only goes to the United Kingdom.

The Government of India appreciate the wider issues which the imposition of such a tax opens up, but they are satisfied that its net advantages exceed those of any alternative forms of taxation which could be proposed. They have accordingly recommended its adoption to the Secretary of State, and it has been provisionally approved by him.

It has been suggested that in imposing the tax the Government should take power to fix tariff values or to convert the ad valorem into an appropriate specific duty.

16. Additional income-tax.—Following continental precedents, the Conference recommended the addition for the purposes of the Trust of half a pie per rupee to the existing income-tax which is levied at the rate of 4 and 5 pies per rupee of income as the case may be. The yield is estimated at Rs. 2 lakhs. The tax possesses the merit of reaching classes who profit greatly by the business facilities of Calcutta, but are not easily reached by other forms of taxation.

The tax has been provisionally approved by the Secretary of State. It is not intended to levy it on the interest on Government securities. The details remain to be worked out, and certain practical difficulties will require consideration by the Local Government, e.g., the case of persons residing in Calcutta for a part only of the year, and the case of firms assessed in Calcutta on the income of branches in other places.

17. Special owners' rate.—The Local Government has proposed a special rate of 1 per cent. on rateable value to be assessed exclusively on owners. The Government of India agree that some share of the special taxation which the scheme involves should be of a kind which falls directly on owners, who will benefit by the improvement of the town. On the other hand, it is argued that the tax will be new in form and therefore more unpopular; that its ultimate incidence like that of the consolidated rates (assessed half on owners and half on occupiers) will be really determined by the conditions of supply of and demand for houses in each locality; and that therefore it would be preferable to add 1 per cent. to the consolidated rates to which the people are accustomed. The Government of India think that, in the probable event of the succession duty being abandoned, one of these alternatives should be adopted. The yield in either case should be about Rs. 2,40,000.

18. Succession Duty.—The Conference proposed a succession duty on immoveable property in Calcutta on a graduated scale working out to a mean rate of 5 per cent. on market value; and took credit in their scheme of finance for a revenue of Rs. 6,50,000 from this source and from a duty on transfers. The proposal was further examined in February 1905 by an informal Committee of legal experts (the Hon'ble the Advocate-General presiding), who reported that the proposal was beset by grave practical difficulties, the chief being those of dealing with the joint-family system and with corporations. In view of these objections the Government of India are disposed to think that the special owner's rate referred to in paragraph 17 is preferable.

19. Railway terminal tax.—The Conference recommended the imposition of a terminal tax on railway passengers arriving at or leaving the Calcutta stations, including Howrah. They estimated the number of passengers at over 10,000,000 per annum, and calculated that a tax of one-half anna per head with a substantial reduction for daily passengers would yield Rs. 2½ lakhs. The tax would fall to a large extent on the poor whom it is in fact desirable to reach by one or other of the special taxes to be imposed. It is argued that the taxation of suburban transportation is opposed to the essential principle of a scheme of city improvement, a main object of which is to encourage the dispersion of the population from the centre to new or existing suburbs. On the other hand, there are precedents for such taxation both in India and elsewhere, and in a scheme which at the best must require heavy and conscious sacrifices from the tax-payer the advantages of a tax which is easily collected and not severely felt are not lightly to be set aside. On the whole, the Government of India are disposed to reserve their opinion till the proposal has been submitted for public criticism and also examined further by the Local Government and by representatives of the railway companies affected. For the tax to be admissible at all, it will be essential to prevent unfair competition with other means of transportation by imposing a similar tax on passengers by river steamer; and also to devise some practicable method of restricting its incidence on the daily passenger within moderate limits.

20. License-fee on import of timber and firewood.—This and the next tax, both of which are in force in Madras, were suggested at a late stage of the discussion, and their probable yield and suitability to the conditions of Calcutta have not yet been examined. The timber and firewood tax in Madras, levied at the rate of Rs. 5 per ton on timber and 6 annas per ton on firewood, yields about Rs. 1½ lakhs net per annum.

21. Tax on animals slaughtered for food.—In Madras this tax, collected under contract, yields about Rs ½ lakh per annum.

22. The following statement indicates the extent to which the taxes proposed will suffice to supply the revenue required:—

		Rs.
(a) Income required from special taxation		10,11,000
(b) Estimated yield of proposed taxes—
	Rs.
Jute tax	5,00,000

Addition of 1 per cent to transfer duty ... }
Railway terminal tax	2,50,000 *
Tax on timber and firewood	(Not yet estimated)
Tax on animals	(Ditto .)

General Summary.

23. The scheme involves a capital expenditure of Rs. 822 lakhs. The persons whose land is improved are expected to repay to the Trust Rs. 336 lakhs capital, while those who are served by the housing operations will pay Rs. 3 lakhs per annum, i.e., Rs. 2 lakhs per annum (sufficient in 60 years to repay a loan of Rs 42 lakhs) and the cost of management (Re. 1 lakh per annum). The capital outlay may therefore be regarded as thus distributed:—

	Rs. Lakhs.
Persons directly benefited, Rs 336 + 42 lakhs = ...	378
Residents of Calcutta	394
The general taxpayer	50
Total ...	822

Thus no part of the cost of management and less than half the capital charges fall on the local taxpayer.

24. The comparative lightness of the burden in relation to the magnitude of the operations involved is the more noticeable when the scheme of taxation comes to be analysed. The repayment of Rs. 394 lakhs involves an annual charge of Rs. 18,35,000. Of this amount it is contemplated that over Rs. 4 lakhs† will be obtained from the Corporation without additional taxation, and Rs. 5 lakhs from the tax on jute, by far the greater proportion of which will probably be borne by consumers beyond Calcutta. The special additional taxation falling ultimately on Calcutta represents in fact only about one-quarter of the whole cost of the scheme.

25. In the event of the estimates of return of capital outlay or of revenue proving to have been materially overstated, the ultimate financial responsibility falls on the Calcutta ratepayer. But serious miscalculation can be avoided by proceeding cautiously and experimentally, and restricting the programme of work with reference to the financial results actually obtained.

(2) In clause 2 (a), the words "permanent pensionable appointment" should be substituted for the words "permanent appointment."

(3) In clause 2 (e), line 4, the words "the particulars of their previous service and the rules or orders under which their service qualifies for pension should be given" should be substituted for the words "their age and health certificates should be attached to the statement."

2. The amended rule will stand as follows :—

"115. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, specially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary, and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

At the time of preparing the pay-bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April should be prepared in Form XXIIIA and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th April. In preparing the statement the following instructions should be carefully observed :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent pensionable appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown.

(b) The date of birth, of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person should be entered in the appropriate columns of the statement; the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and, if the exact date is not known, the approximate date, or year should be stated.

(c) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee, for whom he is officiating.

(d) If the acting incumbent holds a permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated.

(e) A detailed statement in Form XXIIIB should be given at foot of the original return, Form XXIIIA showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the District Board for the first time, the particulars of their previous service and the rules or orders under which their service qualifies for pension should be given. Columns are also provided in Form XXIIIB for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form XXIIIA of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the District Board solely, the fact should be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note should be entered against his name to the effect "Contribution paid to Government for pension."

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement should be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant-General.

No. 1696T.—M.—The 19th July 1905.—It is hereby notified for general information that in exercise of the powers conferred on him by clauses (i) and (t) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885, the Lieutenant-Governor intends to make the following rules in addition to those published under Notification No. 2009T.—M., dated the 9th November 1901, at pages 217-273, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th December 1901.

2. The rules will be taken into consideration with a view to their final adoption on the 1st September 1905, when any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person and received before that date will be considered.

sanctioned by the Joint-Committee, or by the President or other executive officer of the Committee acting in exercise of the powers conferred on him by the rules made under the Act.

8. The President shall cause to be kept a register of establishment in Form No. X, showing, in respect of all establishment whatsoever employed by the Joint-Committee, the particulars specified in the form. A separate page or section shall be allotted to each class of establishment. All changes made by competent authority from time to time in the numbers, nomenclature, or salaries of the establishment shall be immediately entered in the register with the number and date of the orders authorizing the change. A space should be left under each name for the entry of alterations, and a fresh corrected list should be written up annually or as often as required. No entries regarding officiating incumbents, or grant of leave, should be made in this register.

9. At the close of every year the President of the Joint-Committee shall submit to the Commissioner of the Division a list of those records of the Joint-Committee's office which may properly be destroyed. In giving sanction to the destruction of such records, the Commissioner shall be guided by the general rules issued by Government from time to time on this behalf.

LOSS OF MONEY BY EMBEZZLEMENT, THEFT OR OTHERWISE.

10. Whenever any loss of money by embezzlement, theft or otherwise is discovered, the fact shall be promptly reported by the President of the Joint-Committee to the Accountant-General, Bengal, and to the Commissioner of the Division through the District Magistrate. When the matter has been fully enquired into, he shall submit a further and complete report showing the total sum of money lost, the manner in which the money was lost and the steps taken to recover the amount and punish the offenders, if any. No money lost by defalcation, theft or otherwise shall be written off from the accounts, except with the sanction of the Commissioner of the division. When the amount of the loss exceeds Rs. 500 or when the loss is due to any defect in the system of accounts, collection, etc., the sanction of Government is necessary.

BUDGET ESTIMATE.

11. On or before the 1st September each year the Joint-Committee shall, in consultation with the Inspector of Schools, prepare a budget estimate, showing the probable receipts and expenditure of the institution under its charge for the ensuing official year, and shall forward copies of the same to the Magistrate through the Municipality and the District Board concerned, and one copy to the Director of Public Instruction also. The Magistrate and the Director of Public Instruction shall forward the estimates to the Commissioner of the Division with their remarks on or before the 1st October. Copies of the estimates, as sanctioned by the Commissioner, shall be forwarded to the Joint-Committee, the District Board and the Municipality, through the Magistrate.

12. The procedure laid down in the last preceding rule shall be observed in every case where the Joint-Committee may find it necessary to amend the budget estimate at any time after it has been sanctioned.

13. In preparing the budget estimates the Joint-Committee shall show on the receipt side the contributions by the Municipality and the District Board and the receipts of the institution from fees, endowments and other sources, and on the payment side the establishment, contingent and other charges which have been sanctioned by competent authority. The budget estimate shall be supplemented by a statement, giving details of the estimated receipts from school fees and other sources and of the establishments and works provided for on the expenditure side.

TRANSACTIONS WITH THE TREASURY.

14. The funds of the Committee shall be lodged in the Government Treasury and placed to the credit of a Personal Deposit Account to be opened in the official name of the President of the Joint-Committee.

15. Remittances to the treasury should in all cases be accompanied by chalans in duplicate (Form No. II). The first part shall be retained by the treasury, and the counterfoil, duly receipted by the treasury officials, should be returned to the Committee's office for record.

16. All moneys remitted to the treasury to credit of the Joint-Committee and all payments made by the treasury on cheques or otherwise on account of the Joint-Committee shall be entered in a pass-book; the pass-book shall remain in the custody of the President, and it shall be sent to the treasury on the 10th and also on the last working day of every month and on any other day on which the Joint-Committee may require the posting to be done. On receipt of the pass-book by the treasury officials, the receipts and payments up to date, and credits referred to in rule 21, shall be entered therein, and (when the book is received on the last working day of the month) the accounts shall be balanced and signed by the Treasury Officer, the amount being entered in words as well as figures. The book shall then be returned to the office of the Joint-Committee, as soon as the entries prescribed in this rule have been made in it, i.e., on the day of receipt or the next open day at the latest.

17. The pass-book will be supplied by the treasury. It is not a Joint-Committee Fund account-book, but is simply a copy of the account kept in the treasury of the money paid into the credit of, and disbursed on account of, the Joint-Committee, and must therefore always be written up only by the Government Treasury Department by whom the original account is kept.

18. No entries or marks shall, under any circumstances, be made in the pass-book by any one connected with the Joint-Committee's office.

19 The President shall examine this pass-book from time to time, and shall immediately call the attention of the Treasury Officer to any discrepancy that may appear b etween the credits and debits shown in the pass-book and those shown in the accounts of the Joint-Committee's office.

20. The form of the pass-book is as follows:—

DR. The Treasury or Bank of . . . . . in Account Current with the Joint-Committee's Fund . . . . . CR.

1	2	3	4	5			6	7	8	9	10
				Amount.							Amount.

21. When a grant is made to the Joint-Committee's Fund from Provincial revenues, either as a general grant-in-aid, or for expenditure on any specific object, the Accountant-General shall, in the first case, at the beginning of the year, or in the second case, on receipt of orders, instruct the Treasury Officer to credit the amount of the grant to the Joint-Committee's Fund. The credit shall be made by book transfer; no bill or cheque shall be drawn, and no money shall be paid out of the treasury.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.

22. For the payment of petty charges, the President shall hold a permanent advance of such amount as the Joint-Committee may fix from time to time; provided that, without the sanction of the Commissioner, the Joint-Committee shall not fix the amount of the permanent advance at more than Rs. 50.

23. The permanent advance shall be recouped as often as may be necessary in the manner prescribed in rules 51 and 52 below.

24 Payments of not more than Rs. 20 shall be made from the permanent advance, provided that no charge on account of the salary of any employé of the Joint-Committee shall be made otherwise than as prescribed in rules 25 and 30.

25. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque, unless there are special circumstances rendering payment in cash desirable; provided that all payments of sums above Rs. 10 on account of salaries of employés of the Joint Committee shall be made by cheque.

26. Cheque-books will be supplied by the Treasury Officer only, and no other form shall be used. The cheque-books and the counterfoils of used cheques shall be kept in the custody of the President.

27. On receipt of a cheque-book from the treasury, the officer to whom the duty of signing cheques is allotted shall count the cheques, and shall record on the back of the cheque-book that "this cheque-book contains forms."

28. Cheques for sums not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President. Cheques for sums exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President and the Vice-President or Secretary or, in the absence of one or other of them, by the officer present and a member of the Joint-Committee.

29. No cheque shall be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid, nor until the bill, which it will discharge, has been presented in a complete form, examined and passed for payment in accordance with rules 36 and 38.

30. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person, except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf. The rule does not apply to cheques issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of Joint-Committee Fund employés, or for recouping the permanent advance. Whenever money is paid to persons who are illiterate and unable to sign their names in acknowledgement, the payee shall make his mark; the fact of the payment shall be certified to by the officer who pays, and by a witness of respectability.

31. The amount of every cheque shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person or persons who sign the cheque. The word "only" shall always be inserted after the amount written in words in the body of the cheque.

32. Every cheque drawn for a sum, whether exceeding Rs. 20 or not, shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and such receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed.

33. When a signed cheque is cancelled, it shall the enfaced or stamped "cancelled" by the President, and shall be destroyed and the necessary adjustment shall be made in the cash-book.

34. The fact of cancellation shall be noted in red ink under the initials of the drawer of the cheque upon the counterfoil and also across the passing order which has been enfaced upon the voucher.

35. Cheques are current for three months only. After the expiration of that period, payment will be refused at the treasury, and the person in whose favour the cheque was drawn will, therefore, have to bring it back to be re-dated. No fresh cheque should be issued; the lapsed cheque shall simply be re-dated and the alteration initialled by the President or official whose duty it would be to sign the cheque under rule. A note of the fact of re-dating shall be entered in the cash-book against the original transaction. The alteration will in no way affect the accounts, and no further entries shall be made.

36. Every bill or other claim for payment from the Joint-Committee Fund shall be presented in the first instance to the Head of the Educational Institution who shall check and examine it, and if it be found correct and in order, shall submit it for orders to the President. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for the payment shall be endorsed upon it. The order for payment shall run as follows :—"Pay Rupees only (Rs.)," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and shall be signed by the President.

37. If payment is to be made from the permanent advance, the procedure laid down in rules 49 to 53 shall be adopted.

38. If payment is to be made by cheque, the President shall cause the bill to be endorsed with the words "paid by cheque No. ," and shall then sign the endorsement, and cause the cheque to be drawn out, signed and issued. The payee or person taking delivery of the cheque on his behalf shall give a dated acknowledgement of the receipt thereof on that bill. Whenever necessary and convenient to the treasury, cheques issued from the Joint-Committee's office may be enfaced at the district treasury for payment at a sub-treasury.

39. When any payment is made either by cheque or in cash from the permanent advance, it shall be immediately entered in the accounts of the Joint-Committee. In the former case it shall be entered in the cash-book (Form No. III). In the latter case, it shall be entered in the permanent advance account (Form No. VII).

40. Every payment made, either in cash or by cheque, shall be covered by a receipt, stamped if necessary, signed by the person to whom the money is due and to whom it has actually been paid. A receipt signed by another person for the creditor, or with a stamp, is invalid.

41. Bills and vouchers that have been paid by cheque shall be numbered consecutively for the year in order of payment, and shall be pasted in a guard-book. But sub-vouchers, which have been paid in cash out of the permanent advance, shall be separately filed, together with the recoupment voucher covering them. A memorandum instead of this voucher shall be pasted into the guard-book mentioned above, viz,—

MEMORANDUM.

Voucher No. , dated , for Rs. in recoupment of the President's permanent advance, will be found in the separate file.

CASH-BOOK.

42. The cash-book shall be in Form No. III and shall show on the receipt side all sums realized in cash as soon as they are received. Sums credited in the pass-book direct should be similarly shown as soon as intimation is received either direct or through the pass book. Expenditure shall be entered day by day as cheques are issued (vide rule 39 of these rules). All sums received in cash must be remitted to the treasury at once, or within three days at the latest.

43. The cash-book shall be closed and balanced at the end of every month and shall be signed by the President. The difference between the closing balance of the cash-book and that in the treasury arising from uncashed cheques or short credits shall be reconciled in the following manner :—

	Rs.
Balance as per cash-book	.....
Add—Uncashed cheques	.....
Deduct—Short credits	.....
Balance as per pass-book	.....

PERMANENT ADVANCE.

44. On first receiving or taking charge of the permanent advance, the President shall sign and file an acknowledgement in these terms:—"I acknowledge to have in my possession a permanent advance of Rupees (Rs.), which sum is due from me to the Joint-Committee, and I am personally accountable for the amount."

45. A similar acknowledgment shall also be given by the President on the first working day of each year.

46. The permanent advance when first drawn shall be charged in the cash-book to the head "Advances," and shall be debited to the President's account in the advance ledger.

47. There will be no further operations upon the ledger account until the advance is finally repaid. It need not be repaid at the end of each year. If the amount originally fixed for the permanent advance is subsequently increased or decreased by the Joint-Committee, the original advance shall be repaid and a fresh advance drawn.

48. The President shall make payments from his permanent advance from time to time as may be required, and for each payment he shall obtain and hold a bill receipted by the payee, or, in the case of petty office expenses, a written detailed statement of the sum spent.

49. These bills or statements shall be numbered consecutively, enfaced or stamped "paid in cash," and entered in the register in Form VII, the classification of the charges being carefully entered in the columns provided for the purpose.

50. The permanent advance may be recouped whenever necessary, and it must always be recouped on the last working day of the month, except when the expenditure falls below Rs. 10, for which no cheques can be drawn upon the treasury

51. The procedure of recoupment is as follows:—The President shall compare the sub-vouchers with the entries in the permanent advance account; he shall deface them by stamping them "cancelled," so that they cannot be used again. He shall total and initial the column "Amount of sub-voucher" in the permanent advance account, and also the amounts in the classification columns, the cross total of which should agree with the total of the column "Amount of sub-voucher," and shall rule a red-ink line across the page, immediately above which, in the last two columns, the number, date and amount of the voucher for recoupment shall be shown.

52. The voucher for recoupment shall be drawn out in Form No. VIII, and it shall be enfaced with the usual payment order. The President shall draw out a cheque in his own favour for the amount, and sign the certificate in the voucher and the entries in the last two columns of the register.

MONTHLY, QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL ACCOUNTS.

53. As soon as possible, after the end of a month, the entries on the receipt side of the cash-book (Form No. III) shall be posted in the register of monthly receipts (Form No. IV) against the heads concerned. In cases in which there is more than one item classifiable under the same head, the total only should be posted against the head in the body of the accounts, the details being posted at foot in the column for the month concerned. All the payments entered in the cash-book should be posted in the monthly register of payments (Form No. V). For this purpose the classification of the charges should be noted in red ink on each voucher. The vouchers should then all be arranged in the order of the heads in the monthly accounts. If there are more than one voucher under any head, the several items with the numbers of the vouchers should be posted at foot of the monthly account in the column for the month concerned, and the total only posted against the head in the body of the account, the two entries being connected with each other by indicative letters. In such cases the numbers of the vouchers should not be posted in the body, but only against the details at foot. The monthly accounts of receipts and payments should then be totalled and the balances reconciled.

54. An extract from these accounts, showing the figures for the month and the progressive totals to the end of it, should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal, not later than the 15th of the month following that to which the accounts relate.

55. The annual account of the school should be compiled from the monthly accounts and subsidiary registers in the form prescribed by the Educational rules, and copies of this account should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, the Director of Public Instruction, and the District Board and Municipal Office.

ADVANCES AND DEPOSITS.

56. All sums advanced to officers or employés of the Joint-Committee or to contractors or other persons, whether as permanent advances or otherwise, shall be charged in the accounts at once to the head "Advances" and be entered at the same time in the register of advances in Form No. IX, in which recoveries or adjustments of the advances should also be entered as soon as they are effected.

AUDIT.

57. The accounts of the Joint-Committee's Fund shall be examined and audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal as far as possible not less often than once in twelve months.

58. In auditing the accounts, the Examiner shall see that they have been kept and are presented in proper form, that the particular items of receipt and expenditure are stated in sufficient detail, and that the payments are supported by adequate vouchers and authority. He shall examine whether all sums received, or which ought to have been received, are brought into account, and also whether the expenditure is in all cases such as might lawfully be made. He shall also reduce such payments and charges as are exorbitant ; and shall surcharge moneys not duly accounted for, or lost by negligence, upon the person who ought to account for the same, or whose negligence or improper conduct has caused the loss, and shall disallow and strike out such payments as are not authorized by law or competent authority.

59. Copies of the reports of such examination shall be forwarded by the Accountant-General, Bengal, to the President of the Joint-Committee and the Commissioner of the Division. The President shall be bound to remedy any defects or irregularities that may be pointed out by the Accountant-General or the Examiner, and within three months of the date of the receipt of the report, he shall submit a statement, giving particulars of the action taken thereon to the Commissioner, who shall forward the same with his remarks to the Accountant-General.

RECORD OF SERVICE.

60. A service-book in Form No. XI, printed in English and the vernacular, shall be supplied at his own cost to every employé holding a substantive appointment on the permanent establishment of a Joint-Committee. It shall be kept in custody of the President, whose signature as well as that of the employé on the first page shall be attested every five years.

The service-book is a contemporary record of the employé's official life, including leave of every description, every period of suspension from employment, and every other interruption of service, with full details of its duration. Every entry relating thereto shall be written across the page and attested by the President or Vice-President, or the Secretary.

61. The President or Vice-President is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, especially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the President, Vice-President, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary, and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

At the time of preparing the pay-bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April should be prepared in Form No. XII and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th April. In preparing the statement the following instructions should be carefully observed :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty, or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown.

(b) The date of birth, of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person should be entered in the appropriate columns of the statement; the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year should be stated.

(c) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column " Name of incumbent " beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(d) If the acting incumbent holds a permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated.

(e) A detailed statement in Form XIIA should be given at foot of the original return, Form XII, showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the Joint-Committee for the first time, their age and health certificates should be attached to the statement. Columns are also provided in Form XIIA for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form XII of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the Joint-Committee solely, the fact should be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note should be entered against his name to the effect " contribution paid to Government for pension."

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement should be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant-General.

E. by E. in order to avoid the four-fathom patch, which bears N. W. ½ N. from the Light on Wonga Shoal; then get the outer leads [which consist of Two Red Lights vertical seven (7) feet apart and Two White Lights vertical seven (7) feet apart] in line; keep these in line passing between the Occulting Light on the Red Buoy and the Outer Green Light on the north bank, also between the other Green Lights on the north bank and the White Lights on the revetment mound.

Steer on the same line until the two Red Lights of No. 1 lead are coming on; then steer with them on line until the Red Light south of No. 3 Beacon is on with No. 4; then direct the course to pass a safe distance off No. 3; then steer for a like distance off No. 4, and so on from beacon to beacon round the point until No. 9 is reached. From a safe distance off No. 9 the lights of No. 10 lead will be seen; keep them in line until the Red Light is about a quarter of a point open to the right of the White Light of No. 11 lead; then gradually alter the course to bring the lights of No. 11 lead in line; keep them in line (a sharp lookout being kept for the mooring buoys on the starboard hand) until the lights of No. 12 lead are seen coming into line; proceed as before by altering the course before the lights are on with each other. The same applies in the change from No. 12 to No. 13 leads; when the lights on the wharves are seen opening out off Luff Point, alter the course so as to round the point at a safe distance, and then up the centre of the Channel, looking out for the Mooring Buoys on the starboard hand.

By day.—The directions by day are the same as by night, merely substituting the Beacons for the Lights.

In going outwards the directions are just the opposite to those given for coming inwards; but in such case, in changing from one lead to another, the course should be gradually altered when abreast of the Low (Red) Beacon of each lead.

This affects Admiralty Charts 2389B, 1750, and 1752.

BAY OF BENGAL—Hughli river approach.

General Instructions.

No. 257 (third publication).—The following "Directions" are laid down for the guidance of Pilots, Masters of vessels, and others, in supersession of the instructions on pages 215, 216 and 217 of the third edition of the Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1901 :—

Pilot steamer and brigs—Cruising station.

The pilot steamer is of 1,000 tons, painted white with three masts and yellow funnel. The brigs are of about 300 tons, painted black, with white stripes and imitation ports and double top-sail yard. All pilot vessels by day will fly a large blue flag at the main, when inward bound vessels are sighted; and at night will exhibit the regulation lights and flare up.

During the south-west monsoon, pilot vessels will invariably cruise about 8 miles south to south-west of the Eastern Channel light vessel. During the north-east monsoon they cruise or anchor 4 to 5 miles west to north-north-west of the same light-vessel.

Pilotage—Is compulsory for all merchant vessels over 100 tons.

If a pilot is not taken at the cruising station, one cannot be obtained in the river.

Approach—Directions.—Steam vessels arriving at the Sandheads and finding the pilot steamer on the station should close with her and lie to about 300 yards distant under her stern in such a manner as to make a lee for the pilot boat, when a pilot will be supplied.

To avoid delay, approaching steam vessels should, when about half a mile off the pilot vessels, indicate their tonnage by the following steam whistle signals :—

Over 3,400	tons gross	...	...	One short blast.
Between 2,800 and 3,400	,,	...	...	Two ,, ,,
,, 1,800 and 2,800	,,	...	...	Three ,, ,,
Under 1,800	,,	...	...	Four ,, ,,

Sailing vessels should signal net tonnage.

Sailing vessels should approach within safe distance of the steam pilot vessel and then heave to on the starboard tack when a pilot will be supplied.

Steam vessels on closing with the pilot brig for a pilot should lie under her stern or weather quarter, and after receiving a pilot tow the boat to windward of the brig. Sailing vessels should invariably lie to on the same tack as the pilot brig, unless signalled to the contrary.

During bad weather when boating is not safe or when there are no pilots in the station, pilot vessels during daylight will not show the blue flag, and at night will not exhibit the regulation lights or flare up light for pilot vessels engaged on the station. Masters of inward bound vessels should pay particular attention to any signals made under these circumstances.

Sailing vessels should not run for the station at night or in threatening weather. Under such circumstances put the vessel under small sail while in deep water and keep to the sea until daylight. The lead should be kept going constantly.

Vessels arriving at the pilot* station and finding the pilot vessel at anchor must use the utmost caution in closing her on account of the strong tidal streams. When easterly winds prevail there is a strong set to the westward; it is then specially incumbent on strangers to take advice given from the pilot vessel. In arriving at night do not heave-to to windward of the brig if intending to take a pilot before day light, but close as soon as possible, approaching round the brig's stern, whether at anchor or under way.

* Lloyd's Agents at Calcutta have facilities for delivering orders there.

In August, September, and October, when sailing vessels are signalled to keep to windward from there being no pilots, or other causes, they should be most careful to keep the light vessels or brigs in sight, for should the wind fall light they are liable to be set out to sea, and particularly in the two latter months may not be able to return for many days.

Signals from the brig to prepare for bad weather should not be ignored.

The tidal stream should be studied; the first of the flood setting westward, stand eastward; the first of the ebb settting eastward, stand westward and northward.

A kedge anchor is useful. Strangers anchoring below or at any distance off the light-vessel, should endeavour to near the brig and not remain at onchor. The practice of rounding the brig close-to, in a sea-way, is dangerous both to the brig and to the boat alongside; it almost swamps the boat, and the ship, on being brought to the wind, gets a rapid stern board on to the brig, which has often great difficulty in getting clear.

Caution.—Should it be necessary when approaching the Hughli river (Sandheads) in heavy weather to anchor from any cause, if possible anchor outside the line joining Eastern Channel and Mutlah light vessels in not less than 15 fathoms, mud, and do not close the pilot brigs until the weather moderates.

A vessel will ride easier and bring less strain on her cable if anchored in depths of 15 to 20 fathoms, than in less depths, especially in an estuary. In the greater depths, the cable is never quite taut, and therefore is not so liable to part, and also the waves have less force than when they are breaking in the shoaler water.
